New Residents 'go on the air'

Paddock Publications learned last week that sixty new families have selected Arlington Heights as their home during the past few months. This department is going to interview these new comers during the next few weeks.

Each of them has been told that there is to be no censorship over what they may say. Criticism will be as welcome as praise.

We first introduce to our readers Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ziegele, 821 Princeton and their three children, Dorothy, Alberta and Myrtle. Dorothy's other name is Petersen, her husband also being a member of the household.

Arlington Heights was recommended to them by a relative with banking connections. They enjoy Arlington as a village very much. They have one "but" however. They suggest more lights in the area of their home and more street signs and house numbers. One of the first things they did on arrival was to place a street number sign on their property.

Mr. Ziegele is a sleeping car conductor on the Illinois Central, his run taking him to Florida.

Our next introduction is Mr. and Mrs. Harry Siegel, 817 Princeton avenue, and their two children, ten and two years old. They are not really strangers to Arlington Heights because they previously lived here. They are boosters for Arlington and especially the open spaces in the neighborhood in which they make their home. Harry is employed in Arlington. "Nothing like having your husband work in the same town as his home," says Mrs. Siegel, "he saves an hour twice a day, that he would otherwise be riding trains."

Number three is Mr. and Mrs. Bruce E. Silcher, 901 N. Princeton. "We are twice lucky," says Bruce, "first to find a house in which to live and second to find that house in Arlington Heights." The excellent transportation to Chicago loop and the good neighbors we have at home, make it ideal in our estimation," says Mrs. Silcher.

There are two children in the family one is in kindergarten and the other is young enough to rule the family.

When our inquiring reporter arrived at 1203 Woodford Place, he met Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Campbell and their two children Pixie (Priscilla) attending first grade and Bobbie who is three. Their quest for a home ended in Arlington last summer and they are happy that fate directed their footsteps to the City of Good Neighbors. Next to her parents Pixie is in love with her two teachers, Mrs. Skadburg and Mrs. Busse. Mr. Campbell is a public accountant.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Texter, 1628 West Brown st. have been residents of Arlington since last November. The Texters came to Arlington from St. Charles where they were residing temporarily. Their acquaintance with the town dates back a few years and they welcomed the opportunity to become one of its citizens. "It is one of the few towns that has not been spoiled," Mr. Texter told the reporter when asked how he happened to locate here.

The bread winner in this family is an engineer. Incidentally, if the welcoming committee wonders where Brown street is located, it is only four blocks long in the northwestern part of Arlington Park.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cook, 18 South Ridge, think that Arlington is an ideal town and regret that after building their own home here they will be compelled to leave the place. Mr. Cook spent four years with the Army Transport, a large part of that time in the Fiji Islands.

Upon his release from service the family was so anxious to live in their own home that they kept the house in the basement while the rest of the building was being constructed. Within five days after they "moved in" Mr. Cook was offered an attractive position in Minneapolis. It has taken them four months to decide to make the change.

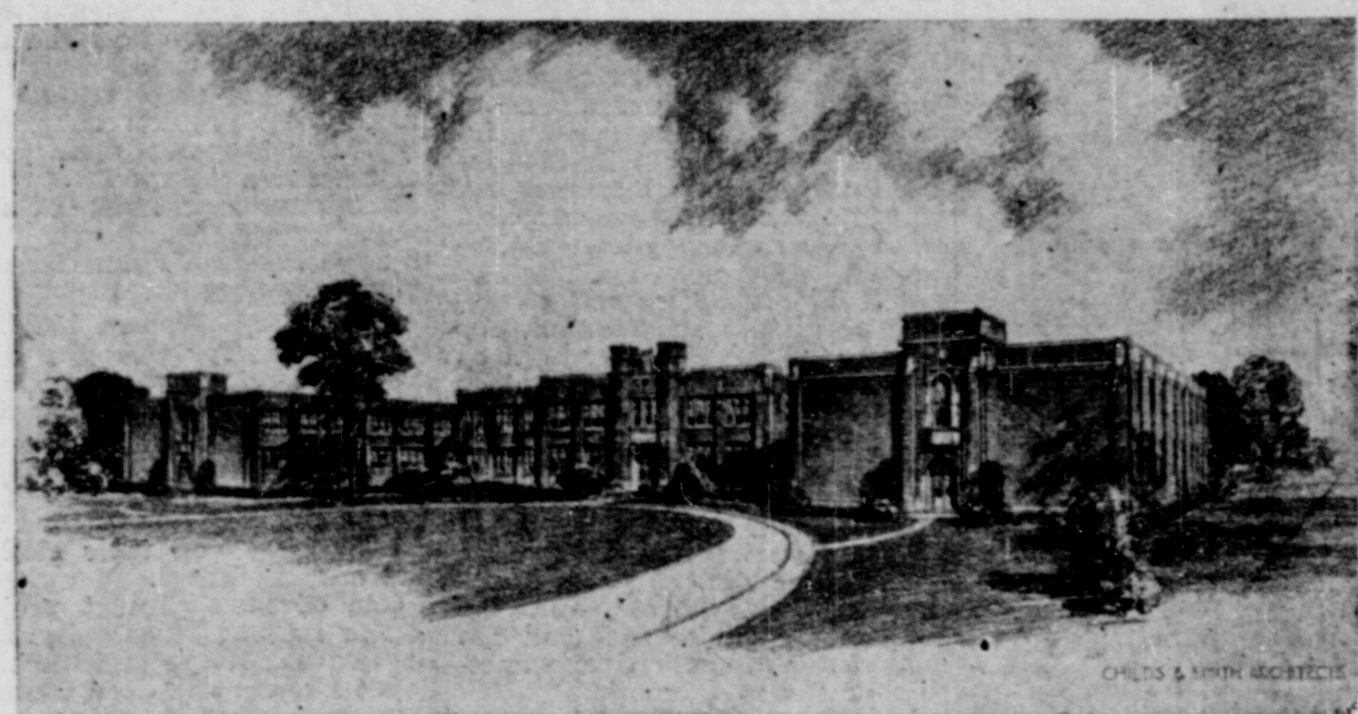

The Cooks have two children, Jime, 6, and Barbara, 4. "A jolly foursome," says mother.

Evangelical Reformed Church Retreat Sunday

A retreat for the men of the West Suburban and Arlington Heights regions of the Evangelical and Reformed Church will be held at St. Peter's church, Elmhurst Sunday afternoon, February 2, starting at 3:30. There will be a fellowship supper at 5:30 and an evening service at 6:45, the program concluding at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Fred C. Schweinfurth, executive secretary of the national commission on evangelism of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, of Cleveland will speak afternoon and evening. The theme of the retreat will be "Evangelism."

Arlington Heights high school in 1967

The Board of Education of Arlington Heights High School is planning for the future. The above drawing shows the architect's conception as to how the high school building will appear in 1967, when 1,500 to 2,000 pupils are enrolled.

Two full tickets open up Arlington political battle

Court approves purchase of lots by high school

Circuit Judge Denis J. Normoyle Tuesday ordered payment of settlements approved by juries to two defendants in the suit to condemn land adjoining the Arlington Heights High school needed for new recreational grounds and shops.

The Consolidated Realty company, owner of 90 per cent of the land, will receive $20,106. Clifford and Marjorie Michaelson, owner of another lot, will get $12,111.

The remaining few lots needed will be negotiated for, according to Special Attorney Frank S. Righelmer.

The basic prices agreed upon is $800 for inside lots without paving and $1,200 for lots with paving. There are still five 25-ft. lots that have not yet been closed. If the owners do not accept price offered, condemnation proceedings will proceed on those lots.

Housing next problem
The housing situation is the greatest problem now facing the high school board. Some loop hole in the law is sought that will permit use of board funds to relieve the shortage. Dire necessity makes some action necessary.

Buick dealer goes highbrow
"Marden Woods" is the new address of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knaack and his family. You will not find that address in any telephone or postoffice directory, but Harry tells us that it is his hideaway over the line in Lake county. It is reached on route 53 north from Palatine.

Yes, it is an estate of forty or more acres; has an eight room house for the boss and his friends, a caretakers' cottage and a three-car garage. The purchase of the property by Harry included a station wagon bearing the name "Marden Woods" and other automotive equipment.

The Knaacks moved to their new place Sunday. When Harry awoke Monday morning he admitted it was rather fonesome without the noise of passing autos, commuters hurrying for trains, or any of the "big city" smells.

Just wait until that 40-acre lawn needs cutting and the flower beds need weeding," say Harry's friends. Harry replies with "I am going to make my guests do the work. Oh, I will have plenty of guests. I will be living in Lake county where slot machines and other popular sports are not bothered. Installation of a little gambling equipment will assure me plenty of friends who will work off their losses pushing the lawn mower or weeding the garden."

(Editor's note: Harry may think he has a sure thing, but wait until Mrs. Harry reads this story.)

Missionary Festival at St. Johns Sunday

St. John Evangelical and Reformed church, will observe their semi-annual Mission Festival in the Morning Worship Service at 10:30 o'clock next Sunday morning, February 2.

Rev. Carl Nugent, guest speaker, former missionary and pastor of Los Angeles, Calif. worked among the Japanese and more recently in charge of the Japanese re-location in the U. S.

Hinz again opposes Neumann for magistrate

Arlington Heights is promised an old time election contest. With four aldermen and a police magistrate to be elected, two complete tickets have been filed. The "candidates" were waiting on the steps of the village hall Monday morning when Village Clerk Forrest Davis opened his office. Davis had previously refused to accept the petitions at his home.

In place of reaching out his hand to receive one of the two petitions, Davis said, "how about a flip of the coin?" Wm. Luehring with the New Progressive petition said "OK". Theo Studtman, retiring alderman, who had the Regular Citizens' ready for filing, agreed. Luehring provided the quarter and took "tails". "Heads" came up and Bill smilingly accepted the loss of first position on the ballot and handed out the cigars.

The candidates for which petitions have been filed are:

New Progressive
Aldermen: William Luehring, 132 West Northwest Highway; Wilbert C. Hartmann, 208 N. Dunton; Howard F. Voss, 407 N. Haddon; Ralph L. Hoffie, 312 N. Douglas.

Police Magistrate: William F. Neumann, 30 S. Mitchell.

Regular Citizens
Aldermen: Albert J. Adam, 401 N. State; C. L. Griffith, 618 W. Campbell; Alvin H. Kahling, 112 S. Evergreen; Frank W. Biner, 215 N. Pine.

Police Magistrate: Herman F. Hinz, 113 N. Pine.

Four years ago Mr. Hinz opposed Mr. Neuman for the same position for which both are again candidates.

All aldermanic candidates on the Progressive ticket are seeking the office for the first time. On the Citizens ticket Messrs. Adam and Griffith are now members of the board.

While there is life, there is hope

Officials in Washington have advised the Arlington Heights airport committee that no decision regarding the Arlington airfield has yet been made although the zero hour was originally set for Jan. 15. Carl Behrens says that almost every day he receives inquiries from private plane owners asking if they will be able to land at the airport in the near future.

Postpone new District 59 school building

The board of education of the Elk Grove District 59 Consolidated school decided not to build at this time as conditions of labor and material are too uncertain.

BANKER'S FEDERATION MEETS MONDAY

Northern Cook County Bankers' Federation will meet Monday at the Pantry, Park Ridge.

Arlington C of C starts plans for 4-H club fair

Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce is getting busy on plans for the 4-H Club fair which will be held in cooperation with the Cook County Farm Bureau at Arlington Heights in August. Herman Hinz, Norman Dewey and Harold Hastings were appointed Monday night as members of a general committee which will cooperate with Henry Moehling representing the Cook county Farm Bureau.

The fair will be patterned in part similar to the annual Elgin event in which many of the farm boys of this area have been competing in previous years.

In order to bring the event to Arlington Heights, the Chamber of Commerce is underwriting its costs. Hundreds of farmers throughout northern Cook county will attend and if it proves a success, it will be repeated each year. President Arthur Franzen stated Wednesday, "I believe that the 4-H Club Fair will be a great advertisement for Arlington Heights and its business men will welcome the opportunity to make it a permanent feature. Arlington is geographically situated as the center of a vast farming area and its business men will be quick to see the trade value that is before them."

Appoint nominating committee
Which will present the list of officers for the annual election in February of the Chamber of Commerce comprise Geo. Schnberger, C. M. Behrens, William Reese, Albert Goedke and Max Watson.

Jahn and Jahn
open Cities Service gas station

Richard H. Jahn and his son, Frank E. Jahn, have formed a partnership and are operating a Cities Service Station at 506 East Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights. Richard is the Arlington Heights Fire Chief and Frank is also a member in that organization. They are accustomed to team work and have a lot of plans for the modernization of the property which Mr. Jahn purchased a year ago. Due to its lease the Jahns had to wait until now to secure occupancy.

Additions to the present building are in the plans. Frank is now in charge of the place, but his dad will be around the place a lot and by the time that summer arrives expect to devote his entire time to the station.

Sam Campbell lecture
Sunday evening

Sam Campbell, noted lecturer, naturalist, and writer will come to Arlington Heights Sunday, February 2 under the sponsorship of the Chicago, North Western Railway. The Mothers Club is presenting the "Philosopher of the Forest" in the Lutheran School Auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Anyone who knows of Campbell or has heard his lectures before will not want to miss this program. The lecture is entirely new and has not been presented in this area previously. Beautiful colored films of the Great North Woods and the practical philosophy of Mr. Campbell provide an inspiring evening. The public is invited.

Palatine woman asks help of police to beat the Stork

Mrs. Elizabeth Lindholm, 28, who resides in the Plum Grove area of Palatine, had to ask help from the Illinois state police to beat the stork to the Grant hospital last Friday.

Mrs. Lindholm, wife of Gunnar Lindholm, an oil company employee, started out on a hurry-trip to the hospital in a car driven by a neighbor, Mrs. Jean Welch, who also took her two youngsters along. Mrs. Welch speeded along the highways as fast as she could, at the same time watching her children and Mrs. Lindholm.

The pace and excitement were too much. Mrs. Welch stopped at the state police office at Irving Park rd. and Harlem ave. and appealed for help. Acting Lt. Harry Richelson assigned Patrolman Matz as emergency chauffeur. He beat the stork by a few minutes, Grant hospital attendants said later on announcing the birth of a 10½ lb. boy to Mrs. Lindholm.

Art Porche dies in Indiana plane crash

Arthur H. Porche, 301 E. Marion ave., Prospect Heights, was killed Saturday evening, when a privately owned twin motored Beechcraft plane in which he was traveling, crashed and exploded about 12 miles south of Kankakee, Ind.

Porche and his fellow travelers were District Sales Managers of the U. S. Machine Corporation and were returning home following a sales executives meeting at Lebanon, Ind.

Earlier in the evening Porche telephoned his daughter, Mrs. Yvonne Zeck, from Indianapolis to tell her that he would be in Chicago later than expected because the plane had been grounded for repairs. A few hours later the plane was sighted circling above the farm house of Earl Foulks, near Kankakee. The plane then crashed and exploded in a field a few hundred feet from the Foulks farm home. The bodies of all five sales executives were hurled from the plane as it crashed.

Porche is survived by his wife Alma, his daughter, Mrs. Yvonne Zeck, and two grandchildren, Francis Harry and Donald Arthur Zeck. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at Old St. Mary's church, Chicago, and interment was at All Saints.

Folk dance session
open to girl scouts
Tuesday, February 11

Miss Janet E. Tobitt, of Sussex, England, and New York City, author and well known authority on music, folk games and folk dances, will be at the Arlington Heights Field House on Tuesday, February 11 to conduct two sessions on music and folk dancing.

The first session will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 p. m. and the second session will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

This is an inter-community project sponsored by the Girl Scout Councils of Arlington Hts., Mt. Prospect, Barrington, and Des Plaines.

The Councils of the aforementioned towns are cooperating in financing this project and it is free to all adult members of the Girl Scout organization.

Miss Tobitt, who is a member of the Girl Guide Association in her native land, has been closely identified with the Girl Scout organization in this country, where she has been music and folk dance instructor in national training camps.

Miss Tobitt has collected her material by traveling in the picturesque villages of France, Belgium, England, Scotland and Wales. Since she came to this country, she has added to her collection many American folk songs and dances, including sea chanteys from New England, Negro spirituals from the south and some of our rollicking mountain songs.

In her training sessions, Miss Tobitt instructs her students in presentation, leadership, the use of source material, the correlation of music with other activities and the planning of music appreciation programs.

Miss Tobitt, who came to the United States for six months, and stayed six years, has published several books of songs, notes for song leaders and dramatized ballads. Some of her books have been published by Girl Scouts, Inc., and all of her songs, games and dances are well known wherever Girl Scouts get together.

Two home games this week

Arlington's Cardinals will attempt to remain in the running for conference honors two nights this week, both times on the home court. Libertyville comes to town Friday night, and Woodstock is the guest Saturday. The Jayvees, too, will be fighting to regain second position in the league race with a very outside chance to tie for first in the offing. Complete details may be found on the sport pages.

Barrington to vote Feb. 8 on school site and $940,000 bonds

Residents of the Barrington area will vote Feb. 8 on the site for the proposed new high school and the issuance of $940,000 bonds to purchase the site and erect the building. The two sites offered are at the west end of the village and adjoining the swimming pool.

Kildeer O.K.'s $100,000 bonds
Residents of the Kildeer Country school, Lake County, approved a $100,000 bond issue last week for the purchase of a ten acre tract and erection of a building.

The Kildeer district was formed last fall by the consolidation of four smaller districts. The district is operating three of the schools at present. It now has 66 pupils.

Supreme Court approves
The Supreme Court has rendered a decision validating the formation of the consolidated school district No. 89. Ground will be broken in the near future for a $100,000 building.

Chicago banker to address Lions

President A. H. Franzen of the Arlington Heights National Bank has secured a speaker at the Lions Club meeting next Tuesday, Arthur Morstadt, assistant trust officer of the American National Bank, Chicago, who will talk on "Your Family and Your Estate." It is a subject that is so important that an invitation is herewith issued to any interested persons to join the Lions at 7:30 when Mr. Morstadt will give his talk.

The speaker is a lawyer and member of several bar associations. Error in judgment in property titles and wills occur frequently and cost estates a lot of money and often deprive heirs of assets which the deceased intended for them.

The Lions meet in the basement of the Lutheran school hall. The public meeting will follow the customary dinner.

"Bundle Days" this Thursday and Friday at public schools

There's still time to gather up a bundle of serviceable worn clothing and shoes for needy children in Europe and poor rural areas of this country. Most needed items are outgrown children's and infants' clothing — adult clothes that might be worn by a teen-age youngster — scuffed shoes that are not worn out — and bedding.

Collection days are Thursday and Friday, January 30 and 31, at both North and South Public Schools, Arlington Heights. Where there is no school-age youngster in the home, the parcel may be delivered directly to the school or may be sent with a neighbor's child.

The clothing collected will be distributed to worthy families by the "Save the Children Federation." Mrs. Richard Chambers, PTA Welfare Chairman, is in charge of the collection in Arlington Heights.

Palatine boys lose wallets at Arlington church gymnasium

Four Palatine boys reported to Arlington Heights police the loss of wallets, taken from their clothes at the Methodist church gymnasium last Wednesday. The boys and their losses are Dave Litschke $125; D. Green, wrist watch; J. Ball, wallet; Paul Wilson, wallet and $5.

BANKER TO TAKE FLORIDA VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Kohler, cashier of the Palatine National Bank, will leave next week for Edgewater, Fla., where they will be guests at the home of Mayor DePue. Their daughter, Kay, will accompany them.

Twenty years from now Arlington Heights township high school will have a large plant accommodating 1500, or possibly, 2000 pupils. Today with 715 pupils the high school building is packed tight and there have been some thin spots in the curriculum that laboratories, shops and other specialized facilities will substantially reinforce.

As in practically every other town, hamlet and village throughout the country, need for expansion in educational facilities is present in Arlington Hts., and the local high school board has been faced with numerous and complicated problems of forecasting future needs of the community.

In recent action the board has adopted a five-fold, twenty year plan that has gained interest among educators elsewhere in the nation faced with like problems. Frank Childs, architect for the local high school additions, has presented a discussion of the contemplated plans in the January issue of "Nation's Schools". Excerpts of his observations are presented here.

Expansion decided upon
The major problem confronting the school administrator, the board of education and the architects was whether to build a totally new plant on a new site, or to modernize and expand the 25-year-old building after acquiring adjacent real estate to permit a long term development.

After a survey by the architects, the latter plan was adopted and work is now in progress on the first unit of a five phase building program which will be achieved, it is hoped, within the next two decades.

The original building is a conservative Gothic structure, not unattractive when viewed across handsomely kept lawns planted with sufficient well placed masses of shrubbery to make a satisfying composition. The new units will conform architecturally with the older nucleus, yet the resultant effect will be definitely more modern in feeling owing to the functional character of the additions.

Occupational training emphasized
First on the priority list in the planning is the shops and laboratory unit now under construction. With increased emphasis on both scientific and vocational training Arlington Hts. expects to train its youths for the occupational opportunities open in the locality.

The pupils in the school shop will find conditions approximating those they will meet later in the factory or in a farm machine shop. The unit is a one story addition naturally lighted by a large glass expanse along three sides and by a saw-toothed, sky lighted roof resembling those found in airplane factories.

From a main corridor the pupils enter any one of the special shops to find a row of lockers inside the door from which he takes his coveralls or shop garb and in which he parks his books and his suit coat. The lockers stand against a lavatory washroom wall, each shop having its own enclosure containing a circular wash fountain; a small toilet room is provided also in each shop. Opposite the lavatory is an office for the shop instructor with a viewing window into the shop.

Two of the shops have wide exterior openings with overhead doors to admit automobiles and farm tractors for study and repair.

A large amount of shop equipment has been acquired at a low figure by the school from the government or at auction and within two or three months, when this unit is completed, the school will for the first time be able to give valid instruction in both vocational and agricultural subjects.

One story high
These shops are one story in height, but the major laboratory unit is of two stories to accommodate the various sciences. The greenhouse adjoining the one-story biology laboratory has a glazed projection.

Unit 2 in the twenty year plan of Arlington Heights high school is a gymnasium wing with an exercise floor 80 by 120 feet. In this large sports arena, winter circuses and automobile shows can be held, as provision is made for 2,000 spectators in rollaway and fixed bleachers. Adequate locker, shower and storage space is provided in the plan. The present cafeteria will have direct connection with the gymnasium wing by a tunnel, which thus rounds out the provisions for social events in this wing.

Once the gymnasium is financed and built, the next phase will come up for consideration. Unit 3 is to be a swimming pool planned for school use during the daytime and community use in the evening hours. Swimming classes for children are contemplated for Saturday mornings.

The pool will be accessible from both school corridors and from a separate public foyer serving gymnasium and swimming activities.

Unit 4 will be a classroom unit adding 22 classrooms, included among which will be a music department. A band room, 50 feet square, with a combined choral hall, little theater and visual aids room will be located adjoining the stage of the present auditorium, thus integrating the facilities for musical and dramatic arts. When the new unit is put up it will provide, in place of the present library badly located on a back service court, a splendid new library above the main entrance and overlooking the spacious lawns, thus making the library the physical as well as the educational center of the completed school plant.

The 22 classrooms to be provided in this phase of the long term construction program will be provided by adding a second floor to the one story wings. This will afford proper circulation for all classrooms at this level.

The school's twenty year plan will be completed when Unit 5, another classroom wing is added. This will provide 14 additional classrooms for the anticipated enrollment of 1967.

The shop and laboratory unit now rising is costing $255,000, a reasonable figure for these times.

OUR INDUSTRIES — What they are doing
E. W. A. ROWLES CO.
Paddock Publications is taking its readers this week to the E. W. A. Rowles plant, 4 North Hickory Street. It is one of the older Arlington Heights firms and is an integral part of the community in which the larger part of its employees reside. Its reputation, however, has extended to far distant places.

Like many other manufacturers, Rowles was handicapped during the war because of lack of raw material and priorities. However since its end many improvements have been made that enable Rowles to manufacture its time tested line of products on the production line method.

About 18 months ago a new concrete block warehouse was added to the plant. This is being used for the storage of toy blackboards, which has become one of the major specialties being manufactured.

Other additions to the plant await improved building conditions. One of these is a new addition to the north of the present factory along Douglas ave.

The standard line of products previously manufactured by this firm will be continued: sheet blackboards (for schools, etc.), framed portable blackboards (many of this type are used by the armed forces), toy blackboards, bulletin boards (cork), felt blackboard erasers, and window shades for schools. No increase in the number of types of products is planned, but improved methods of manufacture have been perfected at the Rowles plant and are now in use. When the new addition is built the blackboard production will be greatly increased. Experiments are also being carried on to eliminate as much hand work as possible by the introduction of machine methods. It is not intended to eliminate personnel but to improve the quality of work.

Another feature of the modern outlook of this firm is the installation in the spring of 1946 of a loudspeaker intercommunication system throughout the entire plant. There are seven stations. This eliminates the going through the telephone switchboard for intra-plant connections and saves much time and effort in the direct easy contact between the various responsible department heads and the office officials.

The south side of the factory grounds has been very nicely landscaped. The north side is in for a face lifting as soon as an incinerator can be installed for the burning of refuse products (paint, sludge, etc.) The incinerator will eliminate the present smoke and fumes that are often bothersome to the neighbors and regretted by the company itself which wants to eliminate the nuisance as early as possible.

In E. W. A. Rowles as in other local factories Arlington Heights is the center of a world wide distribution. Rowles school supplies are being shipped to Sweden, Norway, Holland, Mexico, New Zealand, Australia, South Africa and the Philippine Islands. So we see that hidden on Arlington's quiet byways are industries that make her name known throughout the entire world.

St. Peter holds voters' meeting

At the January voters' meeting of the Arlington Heights St. Peter Lutheran church the following members were presented for voting membership: Ray Kehe, Arthur Kehe, Norman Runge, and Erwin Meier. Walter Rudolph was elected to the Board of Christian Education. William Neitzel was elected to fill the vacancy on the World Relief Committee.

February 2, at 2 p. m., a special voters' meeting will be held to call a new teacher.

The voters also decided to maintain the $10 monthly bonus now being given to the pastor, teachers and janitor.

A large amount of money, originally earmarked for the Activities Building Fund by John Henricks, was set aside, by the donors, as the John Henricks Educational Fund to be used in the interest of St. Peter school.

It was also decided at this meeting that a guest speaker will be secured once a month, for both German and English services, to relieve the load of the pastor's work.

Second open house planned at Arlington high school

About three months ago a general open house was held at the Arlington Heights high school which gave encouragement to all who are interested in education in the community served by the school. Over 500 parents and other friends of the school were present on that occasion. Many patrons have enthusiastically expressed their approval of the "open house" plan. Schools are institutions which are closely knit into the general make-up of a given community. In general schools are best in those areas where public interest runs the highest and correspondingly poor where interest is lacking. The Board of Education desires to give this community the fine school which it deserves. The board, as well as the principal and faculty welcome suggestions from interested patrons. Those who do not visit schools, cannot know them well. On Monday evening, February 17, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, the second open house of the current school year will be held at the Arlington high school.

During recent months newspapers and magazines have contained numerous articles dealing with the problem of public education and the teacher crisis in particular. Radio commentators are also taking a considerable amount of their time to discuss these issues. One of the special features on the open house program will be a talk by Mr. J. E. Pense, superintendent of schools at LaGrange, Mr. Pense is a member of the state educational legislative committee which brings him in close touch with matters pertaining to pending school legislation in the state of Illinois. His talk will be highly informative and interesting to those interested in education. The PTA of the public schools has been invited to participate in this particular meeting since the problems of their district are essentially the same as those of the high school district. Remember the date, Monday, February 17. A further announcement will be made later.

Commissioner Busse has 83rd birthday

Wearing a snappy pin-striped brown suit, County Commissioner William Busse was on hand at the county board rooms Monday on his 83rd birthday. He had celebrated the occasion Sunday with a dinner attended by his four daughters and two sons at the Busse home, 10 South Emerson st., Mt. Prospect.

"I was the kid of the board when I started in 1900 and now I'm the old man," he told reporters and other commissioners who congratulated him. "I have never considered myself to be in politics; I am in public service."

He smokes ten cigars a day, takes a drink occasionally, uses glasses only for reading, and drives cars as a hobby, Busse said.

"My age I attribute to heredity, since my mother was 87 and three uncles almost 90," he declared. "But regular habits such as sleeping from 10 to 7, and an even temper, have something to do with it. I haven't been sick since my appendix acted up in 1922, and I've still got it."

A real family birthday party for Commissioner Busse would have brought together more relatives than could have been accommodated in the Commissioner's home. "It was therefore limited to his sons and daughters."

Hintz enjoys being a millionaire

Fred Hintz says that no visiting dignitary could have been more royally treated than he was in California. "No millionaire could have traveled in more style on the return trip. His grandson, Walter Boeger, was chauffeur while Fred leaned back in the Buick and let the world go past."

Fred made his headquarters at the Flentic home during the two weeks he was in California. He spent two days with Jos. Zalski a fellow employee at the Western Electric plant forty years ago. Of course he called on Fred and Howard Helm.

The trip home by auto enabled him to see many points of interest. "Fellows who never take time to travel are missing a lot," Hintz tells his friends.

Removes Grease Spots

Grease spots usually can be removed from upholstery by sponging them thoroughly with a cloth saturated with carbon tetrachloride or some other solvent, working from the outer edge toward the center. Have a clean cloth at hand to absorb the soiled cleaning fluid. More than one application may be necessary.

Athlete's Sweaters

Sweaters were originally designed for athletes to wear before and after games to prevent cold.

RAMBLE INN

by BILL NORTH

On Monday, February 24, the Youth Center will sponsor another Roller Party at the Fox Roller Rink in Elgin. Buses will be at the Ramble Inn at 7:00 and will return by 11:00.

This Roller Party, the first of the '47 Y. C. activities, was planned because of the great enthusiasm which the last party created. So remember. The event, a roller party; the time, 7:00; the place, Ramble Inn; the more, the merrier.

The Y. C. invites all visitors to the Arlington Cardinal Basketball games to come to Ramble Inn after the game. Win or lose, the Youth Center is a good place to talk things over. There is no admission charge for visiting students.

Last Saturday, after both Junior Varsity and Varsity of Arlington beat Palatine, winning back the sleigh bells, the Palatinates accepted the Y. C.'s invitation and enjoyed its pleasant atmosphere and activities. Their appreciation of the Y. C. has made Palatinates welcome at Ramble Inn any time. Hot Dogs were served along with the regular menu of cokes, candy and ice cream.

The decoration committee, Joan Unger, Barbara Ticky, Mary Lou Sanders, Joan Florence, Joan Randag, added immeasurably to the success of this initial "Y. C. after dance."

Plans are progressing on a semi-formal buffet dinner dance to be held at Ramble Inn. There will be a floor show with some well known entertainers from Chicago. The date has not yet been set because of the crowded school calendar, but this dance will definitely take place in the near future.

If you want to have some fun. Don't be tardy. Be sure that you're on The Roller Party. Get on the ball (bearing that is).

You really might be a whiz On skates. Come on "gates" To the Y. C. roller-Jamboree.

Scout leaders discuss court of honor

by ARNOLD HATCH

Twenty-nine scout leaders of Algonquin and Blackhawk districts were guests of Troop 6 Scoutmasters and Committeemen January 17 in Fellowship hall of Trinity Lutheran Church in Des Plaines.

Bill Davis, chairman, introduced Fred Collins the new District Court of Honor chairman, who spoke briefly on Court of Honor procedure, then asked for suggestions on making a court of honor more effective, more interesting and ways to further instill into scouts an increased desire to advance in scouting which in the final analysis leads to improved character building of youth.

The "free for all" discussion resulted in the unanimous adoption of five recommendations which will be submitted to the District committee for approval. Bill Davis announced the next Scoutmasters Round Table for Algonquin and Blackhawk Districts will be held February 21 in Emmanuel school, room 4 of Des Plaines. Troop 34 with scoutmaster George Meyer and his committee will be host and the subject for discussion "Job analysis of Troop Committee."

The Algonquin District appreciation dinner, continued Bill, will be given in honor of scoutmasters and their wives, January 30 at Emmanuel school of Des Plaines at 6:30. Tickets are now available at $1.50 per plate.

'Scouting on parade' show at Des Plaines

In the show "Scouting on Parade," to be held February 6-7 at the Rand Park Fieldhouse in Des Plaines, Troop 7, sponsored by the Lions Club, will have a booth in which they will demonstrate Woodwork and Forestry. Scoutmaster Marty Freeman will be working with his Scouts of the Troop to make their demonstration one of the outstanding booths at the show. They plan to bring along wood working tools, so they can be actually doing wood working in the booth. They will also demonstrate forestry practice.

Parents and friends of Scouting will have an opportunity to move around through the show and see the demonstrations put on by various units of the Northwest Suburban Council.

28 Council members visit new district scout camp site

by ARNOLD HATCH

Spring sunshine, clean highways, with occasional patches of snow contributed much to the holiday spirit of 28 N. W. Suburban Council members, scouts and their wives who chartered a Giesen Motor Coach at Des Plaines Sunday, January 19 to visit the new scout camp site on Funks Lake, Wisconsin, which is nearly 200 miles from Des Plaines.

The new camp site was recently purchased from the Joe Millers of Wild Rose, Wisconsin, and contains 103 acres, half being quite heavily wooded with pine and oak trees, while the remaining half is under cultivation. It has 2600 feet of shore line with an easy sloping bank, most of which is amply high and ideal for the building of several cabins together with a spacious mess hall large enough to accommodate all of our scouts. Its location at the east end overlooking the lake puts it in an excellent spot where one can enjoy gorgeous scenery and sunsets.

The lake, completely frozen over and covered with snow patches, made an inviting picture. Some of the scouts used their skates to more easily enjoy the beauty of the shore line. Stan Huntington led the rest of the party on foot.

Al Baker and Bill Kratt were busy with their cameras and promise to show some colorful pictures, provided the cameras record the beauties they saw through their view finders.

A few native fishermen in the center of the lake were lazily fishing for perch and croppies, through foot square holes chopped through the 14 inch crystal clear ice. They said the lake had a sand bottom and was spring fed. One could easily observe vegetation at least 12 feet down. They added the lake provided plenty of excellent bass, pike, croppie, perch and sunfish in season.

Stan Huntington said, "A party without eats couldn't possibly be a success" so around noon box lunches were eaten, followed by delicious apple pie and coffee served by the new caretakers, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller.

Woman's Club to hear lecture on Art Institute collections

Miss Helen Parker, Head of the Department of Education of the Chicago Art Institute, will give an illustrated lecture on "The Collections of the Art Institute" at the regular meeting of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club, Wednesday, February 5, at the fieldhouse, at 1:30 p. m.

Among the permanent exhibitions at the Art Institute are many collections of rare china, old glass, and textiles of which the general public is scarcely aware. The Institute houses the greatest collection of Modern French Art in America and, on the other hand, the Oriental Galleries contain treasures centuries old. These and many other notable collections, as well as the famous paintings to be found in the Art Institute, will be discussed by Miss Parker.

Miss Parker, who has traveled extensively in Europe and Africa and who has recently returned from a four month's tour of South America, is well known to the art loving public for her Wednesday noon and Tuesday and Thursday evening lectures, and guided tours. The talk she will bring to the members of the Woman's Club is equal to such a tour of the whole Institute and will add much to the enjoyment of future visits to the collections she discusses.

The musical part of the afternoon's program will be furnished by the girls Triple Trio from the high school under the direction of Mr. Fred Schmoeyer.

Boat Show, Ahoy!

CHICAGO—Seated at the wheel of a big cabin cruiser, Miss Shirley King gets ready to "steer a straight course" to mile long Navy Pier, where the famed National Boat show is scheduled for Feb. 1 through Feb. 9. Hundreds of craft, from such floating palaces to canoes plus accessories, will be on display.

OES ask $1.00 a member for Rockford, Macon

All members of the Order of Eastern Star are being asked to contribute $1 toward the support of the homes for the aged at Rockford and the sanitarium at Macon. A card which will contain ten dimes is being sent to each member with the request for its return by May 15 to the secretary of the local chapter.

The financial campaign is in charge of the Goodwill Charity committee of which the Arlington Heights members are Inez Sharp, Lydia Hausam and Raoul Peters.

Last year the Home for the Aged at Rockford had ninety-four members in its home family and an operating budget of $51,367.00 or about $545.00 per resident. Of this sum about $27,000 was raised from the annual dues of every member in the state. The Sanitarium at Macon had sixty-six patients and an operating budget of $55,426.00 or $839.00 per resident. Of this sum $27,000 was raised from annual dues. The balance in each instance was raised by a charity drive similar to the above.

An increase in the number of applicants who seek residence in these homes, plus rising costs of maintenance, will make operating budgets considerably higher in 1947 than they were in 1946. A new addition to the sanitarium in Macon which is being completed provide facilities for the accommodation of twelve new residents.

Former Palatine girl finds Paris intriguing

Miss Mary Samson, former Palatine resident, who is spending a few months in Europe, finds Paris most intriguing. In a letter to Palatine friends, she recounts her experiences and impressions of England and France.

"Whoever wrote 'Paris is a woman's town' with flowers in her hair" knew what he was talking about," writes Miss Samson.

Because Paris was declared an open city, the war damage was slight, although some of the outlying districts are in shambles.

Mary is pinch hitting in Red Cross Headquarters in Paris for a girl who is in the States on rotational leave. Through the courtesy of the recipient of the letter, Paddock Publications are giving extracts which tell something of what the Red Cross is doing in Europe and market conditions in Paris.

"Paris is Red Cross headquarters for western Europe so we really have our finger on the pulse of international activities in this sector. Just now our office is concerned with distributing supplies sent over from the United States and also with setting up national Red Cross societies in the various countries so that the American Red Cross can withdraw very shortly.

"From what I have seen and heard I am more than ever convinced that the Red Cross certainly justifies its existence, despite the stupid things that some of the workers thoughtlessly do at times.

Appreciate assistance

"The people here are in real need and although we may not agree with their political views or conduct, they're still human beings who are cold and hungry and extremely grateful for any assistance at all.

"You might be interested in the full page spread in the Dec. 30 issue of Life, showing a little Austrian boy who has been given a new pair of shoes. That picture was taken by Gerry Waller, a Red Cross photographer who is connected with our office.

All food rationed

"Almost all food is rationed, but despite that fact the people manage very well. They are without many of the things that we accept and even expect, but they are so thankful that the bombings and uncertainty are past, that everyday inconveniences bother them very little.

"Bread is rationed too, and has an unappetizing greenish-grey hue, although it is quite palatable. The British themselves get quite a kick out of the sausages that are available to them. They are so loaded with cereal that they are never certain whether to serve them with mustard or syrup."

Disabled veterans get many pensions

More than $47,000,000 in pensions and compensations was paid to disabled veterans in the Illinois region last year, Mel Kehe, manager of the Veterans Administration, Arlington Heights office, announced.

A total of 114,458 veterans are now on the disability rolls, an increase of 37,500 cases during 1946. Over 80 per cent are veterans of World War II.

Approximately one out of every four Illinois veterans has filed a disability claim with the VA and about one out of two claims has been approved.

Payments to disabled war veterans range from $13.90 to $360 a month, depending on the extent and nature of the disability. Average monthly payment is $42.

VA Arlington office to contact veterans' kin

Homer G. Bradney, Administrator of the Illinois Veterans Commission asked aid of veterans organizations, their auxiliaries, and civic and other groups, in the Commission's drive to contact the next of kin of Illinois soldiers who died in World War II.

In a public appeal, Bradney asked these groups to help the Commission locate the next of kin of the some 22,000 men who lost their lives during the last conflict.

"Members of these organizations can give the Commission immeasurable aid in contacting the next of kin to determine whether they are receiving all of the benefits to which they are entitled under state and federal law," Bradney said.

"Through the assistance of these organizations, I'm sure that we can obtain nearly a 100 per cent coverage of those left behind by the 22,192 Illinoisans who died in World War II. We already have assisted several thousand next of kin to obtain their benefits."

The Commission's drive to contact the next of kin of Illinois soldier-dead started last week. In addition to aiding next of kin to secure their benefits, the program will assist those who wish to have their soldier's body returned from overseas for reburial at home.

All next of kin in this area are urged to contact Melvin Kehe at the Illinois Veterans Commission office at 210 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights.

Benefits for survivors of discharged veterans

February 10, 1947, is the last day on which some families of World War II veterans who have died since their discharge can apply for social security benefits and receive the full amount for which they are eligible.

The veterans' amendment to the Social Security Act, gave rights to old-age and survivors insurance benefits to the families of most World War II veterans who died within three years of their discharge, if the family is not eligible for a pension or other compensation from the Veterans Administration. (Receipt of National Service Life Insurance will not disqualify the family for social security benefits.)

If the veteran died before August 10, 1946—when the Social Security amendment was passed—his family may get benefits for all the months back to the time of his death, if they file a claim on or before FEBRUARY 10. Otherwise, benefits can be paid retroactively for only three months. No benefits can be paid unless and until a claim is filed.

The Social Security Administration field office serving northwest Cook County is located in Viceroy Building, 1045 Lawrence Ave., Chicago. The field office serving northern Du Page County is in the Post Office Building, 501 Lake Street, Oak Park. Applicants and inquiries for information in connection with Old-Age and Survivors Insurance should get in touch with the field office serving their respective localities. The offices are open 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

John A. Schmidt

John A. Schmidt of Wheeling, was born in Thuisbrunn, Bavaria, Germany, on June 1st, 1888, and passed away in the Highland Park hospital on Wednesday January 22, at the age of 58 years and 8 months.

As a young man he accompanied his sister, Barbara, the late Mrs. Arthur Buettner, to America, in the year 1906. Most of the time since then he made his home in Wheeling, becoming well acquainted as he served the people of the community working in the Wheeling Market. About three years ago he was forced to give up this work because of ill health, and went to make his home in Chicago. Which burden us below, And up in Heaven's fair domain, She waits for us, we know.

VA loans to 32,000

Veterans in Illinois and northern Indiana have borrowed more than $164,000,000 under the G. I. Bill for homes, farms and businesses. Over $151,000,000 of this amount was secured last year.

The need for adequate housing stands out as the major reason why ex-servicemen and women are using their government loan privileges. Since September, 1944, nearly 32,000 veterans in the region obtained G. I. loans, 29,000 of whom used the money to construct or purchase homes. Home loans totalled $155,175,000 as compared with $9,020,000 for farm and business purposes.

The VA guarantees 50 per cent of a loan under the G. I. Bill, with maximum guarantees of $4,000 and $2,000 respectively on real estate and non-real estate loans. It also pays the interest on the guaranteed portion of the loan for the first year. VA commitments on all loans now exceed $72,000,000.

Comic books bespeak day of visual education

On the 115th birthday anniversary of Horatio Alger Jr., whose "Rags to Riches" tales gave inspiration to yesterday's children, a survey taken among 20,000 boys and girls eight to 14 years old revealed some startling facts. Only one percent had read any of Alger's tales and 92 percent were unacquainted with Alger's books.

The survey showed that today's young folks prefer to read the comic books that have such a large sale at the news stands. It advanced the old Chinese saying to "One picture is worth a million words." The trend indicates nothing so much as it does the fact that the time is ripe to make the most that it can of visual education.

Thanks to the Prospect Heights PTA the local school is well equipped with visual educational aids. Parents and teachers here have long recognized that if students are to have the background and knowledge and understanding that has been defined as essential for good citizenship, we must increase our use of mechanical devices which will speed the assimilation of certain classes of information which otherwise would not be profitably digested.

A good strong PTA membership is of great benefit to any school and the Prospect Heights organization has always been a dynamic group. It demonstrated its aliveness within its first six months of activities when it sponsored the Girl Scouts and established a school library. It scored again a few years later with a well rounded hot lunch program. Next followed visual aids — maps, magazines, encyclopaedias and talking pictures. Through its past activities it has aided materially in elevating the value of "going to school" in Prospect Heights.

This year it has won honors again — it has a membership of 274 and its "going to be higher" if you take the word of Mrs. A. Dufresne who has, practically single handed, raised the membership roll from 126. As chairman of the membership committee she has gone out to the homes of parents and civic minded citizens and has signed them up. In her visits she not only sold her PTA but has done an excellent selling job for community spirit. She has sung the praises of every local organization and has contributed more than her share in helping that good old home town spirit of cooperation and helpfulness.

Now that Mrs. Dufresne has elevated the PTA membership to 274, which is over twice the number of members last year, the Prospect Heights group will receive the much coveted Blue Seal of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. It's an honor which should furnish a new zip and zeal to the associations present officers and board. It should stimulate imagination to make the most that it can of visual education aids.

On Tuesday evening, February 8, the PTA will observe "Founders' Day". One of the evenings features will be a demonstration of the schools motion picture machine — a visual aid to which students give their most concentrated attention.

Cards regain sleighbells in 42-27 Palatine defeat

Arlington Heights regained the sleighbells trophy Saturday night as they quite convincingly defeated the Palatine Pirates 42-27 in a rather ragged poorly played game. Neither team showed very much of the class of ball they have played on other occasions but after a few minutes of the third quarter the outcome was never in question.

Led by Bill Kleiner who scored 19 points and played outstanding ball, the Cards pulled away from a 22-18 half time lead to a 10 point margin in the third quarter. Kleiner scored consistently throughout the game. Other Arlington as well as Palatine boys had difficulty locating the hoop. Robinson, sophomore guard, helped spark the Cards' attack with nine points and a good floor game. Stroker hit three in a row in the second quarter but was ineffective as a scorer the rest

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD MCELROY

A new Conference record in scoring was set last Friday night when Bob Thollander of Bensenville scored 33 points on 13 field goals and seven free throws. Thollander, who pitched the Bisons to a conference baseball championship two years ago as a freshman, had wonderful control Friday night but it was a basketball he was tossing instead of a baseball. The Bison redhead scored 19 points in the first half and came back with 14 more as Bensenville man-handled Northbrook 72-34. It was also the high team total posted in the league.

New scoring record in Northeast-90 points by Lake Forest

Over in the Northeast Conference the record 84 points racked up by Crystal Lake in the Niles game just before Christmas went by the boards as Lake Forest's Scouts ran wild against Warren for a new 90 point record.

Only sickness can stop Crystal Lake

It looks like the only way Crystal Lake's title bound Tigers can be stopped is to have the team take sick. No matter who the opposition concentrates on stopping other members of the team get hot and pile up the points. Crystal Lake has a team scoring machine. Last Friday the five regulars scored between 11 and 17 points each with Nelson getting 17, Scully 15, Holt 13, and Krause and Franz 11 apiece.

In a couple of weeks Crystal Lake will have played Lake Forest, Niles and Arlington the second round and it will all be over. Arlington, picked by this column to be the strongest contender in a toss up with Crystal Lake, still looks like a second place finisher.

J. V. player makes good with Cards' varsity

Anyone who wondered why Coach Clarence plucked Robinson away from the Cards' J. V. team no longer had any doubt Saturday night in the Palatine game. He outscored all the Pirates and is a great little competitor with great possibilities for the future if he keeps a level head. Many a young kid who has won first team promotion early in high school has let it go to his head and turned out to be no better as a senior. We will see if this will happen with Robinson. We know he did well enough to be sure of that.

Niles plays unusual defense

Coach Les Galitz employs a rather unusual system at Niles. On defense he uses a three man zone. The other two men stay down the court for long passes when Niles gets the rebound. Niles gambles that the opposition will not hit enough to off set the fact that they have two men always in the scoring zone.

Arlington used four against Niles three man zone defense and left one back to cover the two standard forwards. Passing for short shots the Arlington boys gave Niles few rebound chances and soon forced them to play the traditional man for man defense. There certainly is a lot of action and scoring in Niles games.

Everyone to their own liking but we never have been sold on the firewagon, razzle dazzle, all offense type of basketball. We think that defense is the first important thing to consider in developing a good team. Of course any plan of offense or defense depends a great deal upon the type of material with which the coach has to work.

Speaking of hot shooting

We have been waiting all season for Bob Birks, Palatine's tow headed forward, to break loose with a hot streak of shooting. Finally Birks went on a rampage hitting four long ones in a row in the second quarter at Arlington but an injury a few minutes later stopped him and the warm spell was over. And speaking of hot shooting, consider the 21 field goals and four free throws for 46 points scored by Brownfield of Waukegan at West Aurora last Saturday night.

of the game but his defensive play stood out. Palatine had much trouble getting open near the basket and stayed in the ball game during the first half largely due to inability of both sides to hit in the first quarter and Bob Birks' four consecutive long shots midway in the second period. These long attempts came at a time when Arlington was pulling away and just delayed the decision. Birks left the game before the half with a recurrence of a knee injury.

A capacity crowd saw the games which were hard fought and became rather over aggressive at times but everyone concerned kept their heads and there was not one sign of intentional roughness of the type which so often in years past has marred Palatine - Arlington games.

Arlington won the junior varsity game in a close finish 27-25. Coach H. W. Grace used his entire squad but the so called regulars of past games were the last group to take the floor. A basket by Beckman in the final 30 seconds broke the tie score and gave Arlington the victory. It broke a three game Arlington losing streak.

Palatine took the lead in the first quarter but the junior Cardinals forged ahead 18-14 at the half and the count was tied up at 22 going into the last period. Dresser's five points was high for Arlington as 11 boys contributed to their total. Orzolek scored nine and Rogers eight for the Pirates. Arlington used 17 players.

Libertyville Woodstock to test Arlington

Arlington's Cardinals, attempting to keep pace with Crystal Lake's league leading Tigers, will play host this week end twice, with Libertyville slated for Friday and Woodstock Saturday. Both games should be "in the bag" for the Cards.

Neither the Wildcats from Lake county nor Woodstock circles have fired this year in the North-east conference but both schools are improving to some extent, and could surprise.

Arlington has been a "hot and cold" team at times in the early season and on an inaccurate night with a hot shooting opposition, could succumb to either squad. Coach Iba's Cards are riding high, however, with last week's victories over Niles and Palatine, and the spirit should carry them through to the return of Crystal Lake tilt on the McHenry county court Valentine's Day, when the locals hope to gain at least a share of conference laurels.

Jayvees hope to get back in winning form

Coach Grace's Jayvees hope to get back in winning form in the preliminary games this week, though they've a tough nut to crack Friday against Libertyville. The junior Wildcats are presently holding second in conference play and seem determined to remain that way. Arlington, after gaining three victories early in the season, succumbed to Leyden, Woodstock and Niles in quick succession. With a revised lineup Saturday against Palatine the squad regained winning form which it hopes can carry on to this week end.

At present the junior Cards are in fourth spot, and can move up to second by two victories. Game time both nights is 7:15 p. m.

Antioch nips Warren, 48-40

Antioch beat Warren 48-40 in a non-league varsity game last week and won the frosh-soph game 41-40. Both games were nip and tuck all the way. Warren's poor free throwing which included 22 misses in 30 attempts lost them the varsity game. The loss of three regulars on fouls cost Warren the frosh-soph game.

Hagstrom of Warren and Fields of Antioch each tallied 16 points in the varsity encounter. Depke had 16 for Warren and Paulus had 13 for Antioch in the preliminary. Warren led at the half in both games.

BULLETIN The sports department has received definite word that Bob Mertes, 6' 5" sophomore, Ela basketball star, has enrolled for the second semester at Waukegan high school.

Scrambling for the ball, with Bill Kleiner of the Cards the winner in the Palatine - Arlington clash Saturday night, is Dick Pepper of Palatine. Dick came out second best in this tussle, just to the right is Dan Magnus of Arlington, while Zoellick of Palatine watches from position in the background. Jumping for the tipoff at the right are Stroker and Kolze of the two squads with "Big Al" gaining the ball. Arlington won, 42-27.

Thollander's 33 pts. lead Bisons in 72-34 N'brook rout

With Thollander leading the way, the Bensenville Bisons piled up a terrific 44-19 halftime advantage over Northbrook's Vikings on the home floor Friday night, and went on to win, 72-34.

Thollander had scored seven baskets and five free throws in the first half for 19 points. During the remainder of the game his teammates fed the ball to him continually, enabling him to swish the hoops for 13 buckets and 33 points.

Coach Meneguini's boys grabbed an early 20-10 first period lead, and kept the pace in the second segment. Vulgar aided in the point getting with 11 tallies that first half. He notched five more the second half to rank second for the night with 16 points. Schildgen led his Northbrook squad with 13 scores.

Frosh-sophs win In the frosh-soph game when the locals accomplished a 46-28 victory. Northbrook failed to tally a single basket in the first quarter and a single in the second. The Bison yearlings led at this time, 24-5.

All of the Bison reserves got a chance the second half, Northbrook outscoring the winners 23-22, though never threatening. Keller paced the locals with 23 points, Baldwin, Zielsinski and Hunt getting all but one of the remainder. Bandowin notched six buckets for 14 points for the junior Vikings, Bizer accounting for eight.

Jr. Bisons hope for lead in Friday tilt

Northwest conference play goes back to normal this week when Bensenville's Bisons tangle just once over the weekend, against Barrington on the local court Friday night.

Barrington is currently hot on the heels of high-stepping Ela having a seven and two record, while the locals with a fifth place rating hope to at least keep pace with the first division.

It is the top bracket pitted against the bottom Friday with victories for Palatine over Northbrook, Ela over Grant and Antioch over Wauconda, slated by the experts. The Bronco-Bison tussle is even up, with Coach Meneguini's boys holding a good chance to win. The DuPage boys have been improving, and have lost some tough overtime games, including the former meeting with Barrington.

Preliminary game Friday will perhaps carry the most weight for the fans as the only team capable of overcoming to league leading Ponies from Lake county are the Bison yearlings.

Bensenville has suffered just one defeat, and that at the hands of unbeaten Barrington. Since that December 13 game both squads have been having things pretty much their own way with the "chips down" for Bensenville in this one game. A victory for the locals would tie the league lead, which would have a good chance of remaining to the end of the season.

Six NW league teams in Wauconda district meet

Palatine, Arlington, Bisons direct to two regionals

Nine teams will play in the district basketball tournament which will again be held at Wauconda. After many years with Wauconda as the site of the district tourney in the Waukegan region the meet was moved to Libertyville last year where a state record for district gate receipts was set. This year Northwest conference principals petitioned the state office for a return of the tourney to Wauconda.

Schools competing at Wauconda will comprise six of the eight Northwest league teams including Barrington, Antioch, Northbrook, Ela, Wauconda, and Grant. In addition Grayslake, Warren and Lake Forest will be in the meet. Libertyville, last year's district host, goes directly to the Waukegan regional tournament.

On the basis of season records it appears that Lake Forest and Ela would be highest rated teams with Barrington and Antioch close behind. These four will no doubt be the seeded

Arlington overpowers Niles in free scoring contest, 63-47

by Marvin Prellberg

The Arlington Varsity cage team won a 63-47 decision over a hot shooting Niles quintet last Friday night on the Trojans' Court in a Northeast conference game, before a capacity crowd of over 2,000. These 63 points were the highest total of points in one game run up by the Arlington Heights Varsity since the opening of the season, and they were more than enough to give Arlington a victory over Niles. This win chalked up the fifth for the Cards in the conference standing and they are now in second place behind Crystal Lake with 5 wins and 1 loss.

Niles took an early lead on the Cards in the first few seconds of the game when Stockfish dropped in a foul shot. The Trojans' at the end of the 1st quarter by sinking 2 baskets and 22 free throws for 6 of it's 15 points. The Niles lead was only a slight one, however, for Arlington, led by Bill Kleiner's and Vic Heimsoth's 5 and 4 points, tallied 13 to make the score 15-13 at the end of the quarter.

Arlington came to life in the next quarter as they outscored Niles 15-8 and to lead at half time 28-23. Allan Stroker and Kleiner sparked this Cardinal attack with 6 points apiece, while Soergel led Niles also with 6.

In the third quarter, led by Bill Robinson's 6 points and Heimsoth's 5, the Cards piled up 15 more points, while holding Niles to 11. This pushed Arlington farther out in front, 43-34.

Arlington really got rolling in the 4th and final quarter of the contest as it ran up 20 points while Niles was hitting for 13. Big Al Stroker led the scoring for the Cards in this period with 9 points and Fisher was high for the Trojans with 7. The final score was 63-47 in Arlington's favor. Allan Stroker was high scorer of the game with 20 points. The next conference game for the Cards is against fourth place Libertyville on the locals floor this Friday night, January 31st. The following night, Saturday, February 1st, the Cards meet Woodstock also on the local floor.

Jay-Vees drop no. 3

The Arlington Junior Varsity dropped its third straight conference game Friday night in the preliminary to 7th place Niles, 31-25, on the winner's floor. The Cards Jay-Vees, who have been in a slump since mauling Warren December 20, did not play their usual brand of ball and were quite sloppy in their passing and defensive play.

Niles held the advantage in every phase of the game. The 1st quarter, led 6-2 and at half time 12-9. It's biggest lead came in the 3rd quarter when it went out in front, 22-14. With Arlington subs playing most of the last quarter, they outscored the Trojans 11-9 but it wasn't enough and Niles was the victor, 31-25.

H. Seigel led the victors with 12 points while John Shanley, Marvin Berschet, and Howie Sporleder, a new addition to the Jay-Vees, led Arlington with 5 points apiece.

Woodstock loses at Crystal Lake, 69-36

Crystal Lake five regulars scored 67 of 69 points as the Tigers chalked up league victory number six at the expense of Woodstock 69-36. The Tigers scored 25 points in the third eight minute period after a 24-15 half time count and then tallied 20 more in the final segment for good measure. Nelson's 17 and Scully's 15 were Crystal Lake's tons in a balanced attack which found 11 points the low point total among the starters. A Woodstock Nelson scored 10 points to lead the Blue and White quintet.

Woodstock's conference contenders took the JV game 39-26 in convincing fashion and remained one game behind leading Leyden.

Libertyville beats Leyden five, 33-29

Libertyville's Wildcats took the measure of Leyden Friday night in a Northeast conference battle, though the Eagles were rolling up fast in the final period with a 19 point drive. The Libertyville boys led 24-10 at halftime.

Junior-varsity game saw Libertyville's Ponies surrendering first place to Leyden's lights in a 29-23 contest.

Bisons lose heartbreaker to Antioch after leading all the way

Bensenville made it an even break Saturday night when they suffered a one point, overtime loss at Antioch, 43-42. The locals had led all the way until Jones tied the game with just five seconds to go. A free throw by Fields in the "fifth" quarter put the game on ice for Antioch.

Bisons grabbed the lead on the first basket, holding a 11-6 advantage at the first period. Halftime tally was 24-20, with 35-32, always in favor of Menequin's five, holding true going into the final segment.

Again it was a five man aggregation that played for the DuPage county five, with Thollander getting a slow start in scoring. He sank just one bucket the first half, but came through in fine style the latter segment to count 17 points for the night. Vulgar with eight, and Steffen-

sen and Borg with six apiece, were other scorers. Outstanding Jones, rated one of the top players in the league, led the victors with 16 scores. He also was a slow starter, notching five and eleven points in the two halves. Kraft was second for the Sequoits with six tosses.

Frosh-sophs take opener

Bisons frosh-sophs drew the first blood of the evening in a devastating 42-19 defeat administered the Antioch yearlings. Antioch failed to score a single basket the entire first half with Bensenville racking up 14 and seven points the first two segments. Second half saw normal action in the game, through the junior Bisons still outscored their opponents 21-17.

Baldwin's six baskets and free throw counted heavily for the locals, with Keller's eleven points right behind.

Wauconda scares Ela, but Bears win, 37-27

Wauconda returned to the playing form which they displayed against Palatine in the season opener and gave Ela's league leaders a scare before falling 37-27 Saturday night. Ela led by only two points at one time in the final quarter but Grever and Mertes, who had been held to four points each in the first half, opened up and extended the margin to ten points.

Loss of Novotny on fouls hurt Wauconda's chances in the late stages of the game. Bienkowski, Mathews and Reardon all played fine defensive ball to hold Ela to one of their lowest point totals of the season. Grever's 12 points was high for both teams.

After a close first half Wauconda's frosh-sophs ran up a 10 point lead led by the scoring of Schotanus and Fink who had nine and 14 points respectively but the former finally fouled out and Ela rallied for three baskets in the final minute.

Barrington keeps pace with Ela

Led by Walter Kocher's 22 points Barrington continued to gallop along on the heels of the league leading Ela Bears as they soundly whipped Wauconda 55-36 Friday night. Barrington held a 25-18 lead in a fairly close first half but from that point the game became a rout. Kocher scored 10 field goals to lead the Broncho attack. Novotny, playing his last week end of league ball, scored 12 points. Reardon hit for 10.

Barrington's undefeated frosh-sophs won 33-23 though Wauconda played them on even terms followed a 19-10 half time score. Schuett of Barrington and Cook of Wauconda each got 10 points.

7th straight game

Crystal Lake made it seven straight in the Northeast loop by beating a stubborn Leyden five at Franklin Park Saturday 58-45. Leyden led 7-5 the first quarter on the small court and trailed only 25-17 at half time, a showing that few of the league leaders have been able to do against the Tigers. Huffman's 16 points kept Leyden in the running. High scoring Nelson got just one lone field goal for Crystal Lake but Holt scored 18, Scully 17 and Krause 12.

Leyden's league leading JV team ran up a 13-1 lead in the first quarter and was never in trouble as they won their sixth in seven starts 36-18. Graber scored nine points as eight junior Eagles cashed in with points. Pakwood scored eight for Crystal Lake.

Card frosh win two and lose one

Arlington Heights freshmen basketball squads counted two victories and one defeat this past week, falling to Niles, but winning twice from Barrington.

A good Niles team led all the way Friday when they played host to the Card yearlings, going ahead 10-7 the first quarter, and keeping the lead 22-13, 25-21 and 36-27 for the final. Arlington rallied to within four points the third frame, but again fell behind in the final segment.

Gordon Busse led the locals with nine points, while Jim Brown was close behind with seven. For the winners, Brei notched 14, Lange 10 and Donovan 10.

Peat Barrington

Barrington frosh journeyed to Arlington Monday afternoon of this week for a double header between "varsity" and "B" teams, Arlington winning both, 38-28 and 29-21.

Again Busse led the varsity with 16 points, with the remainder evenly divided between other members of the squad. Helvot of Barrington outscored his mates with nine tallies.

Arlington led all the way, 10-6, 24-15 and 36-21 at the quarters.

Reserves win

In the reserve game all 17 boys were used by Coach Grace in the 29-21 victory. Forward Bill Winn and center August Krause led the locals with 12 and 11 points, respectively.

Broncs started slow, gaining the short end of a 10-1 first period rating, and falling behind 14-6 at halftime. Third quarter tally was 20-13.

Arlington has two more frosh games this coming week, journeying to Leyden Saturday morning and playing host to Libertyville Monday afternoon.

Northbrook gains double win over Grant

Northbrook improved their Northwest standings with a double win over Grant last Saturday. The varsity won 43-32 while the Frosh-soph took a 36-30 decision. Schildgen of the Vikings held by six foot seven Johnson of Grant scoreless and put in 13 counters himself for the best performance of the evening. Northbrook racked up a 23-7 lead at the half and coasted in though Grant rallied with 18 points in the final period against Northbrook reserves. Tomes and Lesch, Northbrook forwards, tallied 10 points apiece. Haiman was Grant's best all round performer and best scorer with nine.

Northbrook's frosh-sops gained a 11-0 lead in the first seven minutes. Northbrook led 21-10 at the half. Bandow scored 15 points and Bizer set up most of the fast breaks for the Northbrook points. Wendland again was Grant's only consistent scorer.

Have 11-game lead in major league, but lose to local ladies team

A surprising, but convincing, defeat of the leaders of the Arlington Heights major league bowling squad, Benny's Tavern, was administered Sunday on the Arlington Bowling Lanes by a team of local women keglers. The "boys" had graciously granted the girls a 75 pin per game handicap, but the women didn't need it as they won the match by 40 pins without such aid.

Leading the ladies five was Esther Granzin who tallied 186, 193 and 156 for a 535 series. Still ahead of the men was Mildred Porvich, who counted two 180 games for 519. Others included Frances Simon 484, Esther Drewes 473, and Toni LaBant 408.

For the men (Capt Rox Bolte says the team is up for grabs), Fay Meyer just passed the 500 stripe, getting 506, Bud Peters 505, L. Jaacks 500, Rox Bolte and Carl Huber 403.

Game scores for the ladies were 840, 832 and 747, for a 2419 actual series. Handicap though not needed, brought their series to 2634. The men scored 763, 783 and 830 for a 2379 total.

Westerman pin classic title goes to Art

Art (A. J.) Westerman won the 26th annual Westerman Family Bowling Classic at Schneiders' alleys, Elgin, Sunday afternoon by rolling scores of 210, 161, 200, 180, and 179 against his 10-year average of 170 for 80 points, seven more than Harold (Duke), who took second. It was Art's first win since 1930 when he retired the first trophy to make its appearance in this unique event and gives him the first of the three wins necessary to retire trophy No. 4. Frank (Sam) won last year to retire the third trophy and Harry (Red) won the second in 1935.

20,000 motor courts prove worth to touring public

Eight more motorists in every 100 spend the night at motor courts this postwar period than in 1939, James J. Skelly, president of the American Road Builders' Association, said in a statement issued to highway engineers here today.

"More and better highways have increased our modern wayside inns," Mr. Skelly said. "In 1922, we had only 600 motor courts in the whole nation," Mr. Skelly pointed out. "Today, we have 20,000 motor courts with an average of 22 rooms to each court, according to a report of the Department of Commerce. With travel reaching a new peak, the future of this business is assured so long as some areas are not over-built."

"Twenty years ago," Mr. Skelly said, "the motorist was forced to take his camping equipment with him. He camped on a convenient farm and bought milk and produce from the farmer. The farmer began to see the profit in the motorist's visit and built crude unheated cabins for overnight lodging."

"So did gas station operators, country merchants, restaurant owners, and garage owners along the highway. The tourist camp, started by many of them as a side business, grew to be their major employment."

Even during the depression, tourist camps remained prosperous, Mr. Skelly pointed out. The motorist could lodge at one for 50 or 75 cents a night and was thus still able to afford a vacation.

As highways improved and travel increased, enterprising

$70,000,000 BOND ISSUE INVALID

Because County Clerk Flynn did not publish an election notice a sufficient number of days ahead of an election the Illinois Supreme Court has declared invalid the $70,000,000 bond issue for Super Highways in Cook County. "The Supreme Court seems to have definitely made up their minds that the published notice was insufficient," said Assistant States Attorney Jacob Shamberger, after studying the opinion. "All we can do is to resubmit the question to the voters next November." Unless the voters again approve the bond issue the Northwest super highway is dead.

EXPECT TAX RATE DECISION FEBRUARY 15

The Supreme court heard arguments Thursday on the important case of Grace Anderson vs. City of Park Ridge, which will determine the rate limits of most suburban taxing bodies under the Butler Laws providing 100 percent assessment for all counties. Attorney Robert S. Cushman expects a recess opinion around February 15 because tax bills are being held up.

SUGGEST INCREASE IN MARRIAGE LICENSES FEES

Anyone who has any plans to get married can save $2 if he doesn't drag it out too long, maybe, County Clerk Michael J. Flynn recommended to the county board last week that the cost of marriage licenses be increased from $3 to $5.

"When a man gets in that state, he is liable to pay $10 for the license," was the way Flynn put it.

Since there were 66,622 licenses issued in 1946, this would bring $133,244 additional yearly to the county, assuming the mad rush keeps up.

Any fee charges will have to be approved by the state legislature.

AK FM RADIO FOR COUNTY POLICE

Sheriff Walsh is asking for $40,000 to install FM radio system, replacing the present equipment which under order of Federal Communications must change its operating frequency by July 1, 1947. "State and county police have FM and like equipment is necessary if we are to retain our road blocks and cooperate with other police agencies," stated Sheriff Walsh.

Seventeen villages, including Morton Grove, Arlington Heights, Palatine and Mt. Prospect are dependent on the county for net work communication to the outside world.

SHERIFFS CARS IN BAD WAY

Journal of a Bird Watcher

January and February are the months to feed the birds. The long cold and continued snow and ice make it difficult for them. We usually are able to have suet out for them pressed into the crevasses in the bark of trees. The downy woodpecker and nuthatch are continuous diners and quite often the hairy woodpecker, who looks like a large edition of the downy, comes to eat. The bigger the bird, the higher priority for the food. The little nuthatch with his dark French blue back and cap and rust washed sides waits on third table with impatient "yank, yank" cries. When the suet is fresh, the nuthatch is in a frenzy to carry off small chunks and store them in cracks. At times, the house sparrows cling to the bark woodpecker fashion and feed. We have set at the foot of the old apple tree a fruit box, upended, and covered with oil cloth on three sides for protection against the weather. The center partition acts as a middle shelf making three feeding shelves for the birds. We keep them supplied with scratch feed, with some sunflower seed mixed in especially for the cardinals.

Two cardinals, about twenty-five house sparrows and an occasional blue jay come to this platform. The blue jay particularly likes to wrest corn off the cob. The sparrows warm up in the late morning sun on the east side of the house before they get down to eating, and they dine again about three in the afternoon. The cardinals eat at daybreak and again at twilight when it is almost dark. Should they want a snack when the sparrows are around, they chase them off in a genteel sort of way. I suppose the brown creeper sneaks around for a small bit of suet now and then when the insect eggs seem scarce, but they are so quiet and unassuming that they are hardly noticed. The seed eating birds are also fond of all sorts of crumbs and when the new snow has fallen, they like to have a space cleared for them on the hard ground for the bread crumbs. We also furnish a pan of hot water when everything is frozen hard and dry.

This February (1946) we have noted an occasional prairie horned lark in the fallow fields and on the gravel roads. Toward the latter part of February we look for the dogwood and willows to start showing color. When the twigs seem to show a brighter red, or orange or yellow, as the case may be, we know that spring is stirring.

Feb. 26, 1946: The temperature has been around forty degrees during the day time and it is mild for this time of the year. We have seen an occasional sparrow hawk and feel that this is our first spring arrival this year.

Feb. 28, 1946: Saw my first redbird blackbirds today and two robins in their spring coats. I also heard the western meadowlark. This bird looks practically the same as the commoner eastern meadowlark but has an entirely different—mellow—song. The western meadowlark has been gradually extending its range eastward and northward and has been found around Itasca and Wood Dale five years ago at which time I did not find any around Arlington Heights.

The thermometer is still in the forties and it surely feels like spring!

Barrington music club to sponsor test for musicians

The Barrington Music club is again sponsoring a contest for the young musicians of this area. High school students or young people who have not passed their nineteenth birthday will have an opportunity to try out in voice and violin on March first. The winners will appear as soloists on the club's regular program, "Youth in Music" Tuesday, March 18. The judges will be members of the Barrington Music Club who do not have any pupils entered in the contest.

Students eligible for the contest may come from Palatine, Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Wauconda, Lake Zurich, Fox River Grove, Cary, Crystal Lake, Algonquin, Dundee, Carpentersville, and Barrington.

This is the second year that the Barrington Music Club has sponsored a high school student contest. The winner last year was Donald Berke, pianist, of Fox River Grove.

Miss Lorelei Langendorf, contest chairman, says that registration blanks may be obtained from the high school serving the above towns. Registration ends February 8.

Ask improved health condition in county trailer camps

Trailer camps in Cook county are slated for improved health conditions during 1947, if the Cook county department of public health can do anything about it. It was in one trailer camp that an epidemic of seven cases of polio occurred last year.

In others, reported Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, county health director, there are half the facilities required for minimum health standards.

"Many of the camps are complying with state health standards," said Dr. Piszczek, "but there are others where there is a deficiency of water supply and improper methods of sewage disposal. These are major problems and are being met by the health department."

He disclosed that an investigation was just concluded of the 43 cabin and trailer camps known to be operating in the county, and letters have been sent to camp owners pointing out health deficiencies. The inspection reports will also be used by the state for grading the camps.

"Where corrections are not made voluntarily," Dr. Piszczek, "we shall turn the matter over to the state's attorney for prosecution."

Dr. Piszczek said that based on land area, each trailer should have 375 square feet under state law. Under the county zoning ordinance, each trailer in new camps must have 1,000 square feet. Each camp must provide two toilets, showers and sinks for each ten trailer spaces.

Estimates Gladly Given

Martin E. Plate

Palatine

Saturday, Jan. 27, there was a meeting of about 20 property owners at Benhart's hall at Roselle for the purpose of organizing the Schaumburg Mutual Drainage District.

Some time ago A. L. Webster, drainage engineer of Wheaton was employed to take levels and measurements to ascertain the probable cost and practicability of draining the low land just west of Roselle from the Stratford Farms south to the Henry Richert property. After this was done a special meeting was called, maps and profiles presented and copies of the estimate and a map handed to each owner.

In order to avoid court proceedings which have had to be held in Chicago and to save the unnecessary costs of such proceedings as well as to get as prompt action as possible without any ill feelings between neighbors, it was suggested that they organize a mutual district, electing three disinterested commissioners. Herman Licht, Hartmann Bartels and Fred Hartmann were elected. They were authorized to divide the total cost of said improvement, which was $13,476.87 among the several owners in proportion to the benefit derived.

At Saturday's meeting each owner was handed a copy of the assessment roll which included each man's assessment. The agreements were signed and the commissioners authorized to proceed with the work, procuring bids, letting contracts and supervising the work.

This improvement covers about 1200 acres and will reclaim about 400 acres of slough land as well as enable the commissioners to proceed to better take care of the highways by reason of their always being in a dry condition.

JUST AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:

Excuse me if I do a little bragging about the home town this week. But I bet you didn't know that in a recent survey made at the University of Illinois, Harvard Community High School took fifth place among all high schools in the state in the study of the English language. By this I mean, the students won that standing for their general knowledge and application of English.

A list of the ten top schools was published covering all high schools in the state. Bensenville was among the ten, but not one school on the North Shore was mentioned. This really surprised me, for Evanston High School, New Trier High and Highland Park High have always enjoyed an excellent reputation generally, and one would think their English department would make a top showing in such a survey. Did you read Emma Clark's column of Jan. 17th in the Sunday Tribune? She writes the interesting letter column, "When Chicago Was Young", and in this particular letter devoted her column to the Ayer family of Chicago. Edward E. Ayer was the son of Judge Ayer, one of the founders of Harvard. (Our main thoroughfare here is called Ayer Street in remembrance of the Judge).

In her letter, Miss Clark mentioned that "in his boyhood, Edward Ayer, drove a team with a load of wheat from Harvard to Kenosha." Later on he went to California in search of gold but all he found was what he worked for in a saw mill at $1.50 a day. After seeing service in the Civil War, young Edward returned to Harvard and took a contract for supplying the Northwestern railroad with wood for its locomotives. This was the beginning of his career. He expanded this field to that of supplying cedar for telegraph poles. After moving to Chicago his sales reached enormous proportions. He became a wealthy man, and a great philanthropist. He bought a home at Lake Geneva where he housed his "American" collection, and at his death his Indian relics were given to the Newberry Library to form the nucleus of what is now the most complete and most valuable collection of Indian lore in the world.

The Field Museum, of which he was one of the founders, was also filled with collections from the Ayer estate.

So perhaps we are indebted to an old Harvardite for the name we have given our farm, for it was in the North American Indian room at the Newberry Library that we found the language of the Winnebago tribe. And from one of their beautiful stories we chose Manapiu ("the earth, you make it good.") as the name for our small piece of terra firma.

Harvard is exceptionally Scout minded. The boys are now preparing for Boy Scout Week Court of Honor and Exposition. George is very enthusiastic, and lately took on the responsibility of Den Chief. (I can't decide whether or not it is a good thing that his small brother, Edward, joined his group. Sometimes, it's very difficult to take advice from an older brother!)

They meet at the Den Mother's home after school on Friday from 4 to 5, though most of the time it is 5:30 before the car horn is insistent enough to bring them out of the house. Scout meetings for George's troop meet on Monday evenings from 7 to 8:30. It means a lot of driving for the parents who live in the country, but the Scout and Cub Scout programs are so well worth while, we would not like to have the children miss this experience.

I was amused to hear the conversation between George and Edward the other afternoon after Cub meeting. It seems the boys got a little out of hand when it was time to go home. Wraps were tossed around, some pushing took place, and in other words, a little "rough housing." Edward thought this was a good opportunity to take his "big brother" to task for not keeping the boys under control. "You're the Den Chief," he said to George, "why didn't you MAKE them behave?" Poor George! The outcome of the dissertation resulted in the following laboriously worked out on Mom's typewriter:

Rules of Conduct for Cub Scouts at our meetings.

A Cub Scout is expected to conduct himself as a gentleman. Therefore, we will give all due respect to the Den Mother, knowing that she is giving her time, interest, and home to help us succeed with the Cub program.

We will not act in a rowdy manner at our meetings.

We will be at the meetings on time and leave on time.

We will not enter the Den Mother's home without first knocking on the door.

We will leave our wraps in the place she designates.

We will put all our material away before leaving the meetings.

We will tell her goodbye and thank her upon leaving the meetings.

(I hope I showed the proper attitude when this was read to Edward and me. At least I tried to, but I'm not so sure about Ed!)

With love, Mary.

Tales of the STREET

BY T. C. HART

NEW VALUES

All property in Cook County has been increased in valuation by the state commission Assessor Clark, who started the firework for 100% valuation a few years ago, now finds that the state officials do not agree with his figures and they claim his assessments are only about 62% of full value so they have boosted the assessments on all property in the county.

The state officials evidently felt that "full cash value" meant just that and they have taken the actual sales prices of property and property appraisals as a basis for their action. Now people who have been asking big prices and getting them for property assessed at low values will have to pay taxes on the higher valuations.

There will be no increase of actual amount of money on the tax due this year because of the new values as all tax budgets are in and the rate will simply be that much lower on the new higher values. In the future years taxing bodies will have a lot more value to levy taxes against, and this may lead to a lot of wild cat spending on the part of some taxing units unless the legislature reduces the rate allowed for taxation.

To the home owner who is not interested in selling his home or in the inflated values of property the new valuations come as a blow as in the future he will be compelled to pay taxes on what to most authorities are actually inflated values, although property at this time is selling at those high values. Unless extreme care is taken the present revaluation may bring about the same chain of conditions as those caused by the famous revaluation of 1928.

CAR INSURANCE

It begins to look as if a lot of car owners will have to buy new cars if they hope to get any auto insurance, and the state says that if you don't carry complete insurance you don't drive a car. Big insurance companies are notifying their agents that no insurance will be written on cars of an earlier vintage than 1938. Other companies are limiting their insurance to certain types of policy on old cars.

Some folks think it must all be a frame-up between the insurance companies and the auto manufacturers to stimulate new car sales, but the insurance people have probably found from experience that old cars are too much of an accident risk and so have taken their action.

At any rate move on the part of the insurance people should send a whole lot of cars of ancient vintage to the scrap heap.

WATER SCARE

One early morning last week during the cold wave more people were hunting for frozen pipes than ever had that experience before. But the pipes were not frozen and folks were rushing about trying to get enough water for the morning coffee.

The trouble was that the automatic pump at the pumping station forgot that it was automatic and failed to trip on when it should. When the pressure got very low a bell sounded a warning signal which was heard by the police, who notified the water superintendent, and in a short time the pressure started back to normal and folks could get their breakfast.

Late risers weren't aware of all the excitement as pressure was normal when they got up, but the early birds had the scare of a blessing that no fire broke out about the time when there wasn't any pressure.

GROUND HOG

Next Sunday will be ground hog day when according to the old traditions that little animal will come out of his den after a winter's sleep and take a look at the weather. According to the old adage if he sees his shadow he will live back into his den for six weeks more of winter.

If it's cloudy and he fails to see his shadow he is supposed to play around a while to indicate that the backbone of the winter is broken. Even if he sees his shadow and we are in for six weeks more of winter that won't be so awfully long. At least the days are getting longer, the sun is getting higher and we are over the winter's hump and on the downgrade toward spring.

Another six weeks and the advance guard of the spring birds will be putting in their appearance, robins will be hopping around the lawn, the wild ducks will be winging their way northward and many bird neighbors will be making ready for their summer stay.

WEATHER BREEDER

Before all this comes about we may be in for some real winter. The old timers look with suspicion at all this balmy spring-like weather we have been having this month.

This mild weather is a "weather breeder" one old timer told us the other day. "It's nice now, but it just means that we'll have some tough weather to pay for it and maybe it will come late in the spring when we're all ready for some nice settled weather."

To bear out those old timers' predictions those weather predicting cactus plants are still blooming in good shape warning us that spring isn't here yet even if it is on the way, and waiting for the old ground hog to tell us weather it's to be here soon or after six weeks from now.

PROFITS

Some people who made fun of the early Palanoid Park development saying that those new homes were merely "cracker boxes" might be surprised to know that the folks out in that development who have had occasion to sell their homes have found out that a lot of people thought that the original owners had made a good bargain when they bought their homes.

At any rate 13 of these original homes have been sold by the

READING &amp; WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

Only a biographer knows how difficult it is for one man to present all that should be presented about a great figure. Paul M. Angle in "The Lincoln Reader" has hit on an ingenious idea for interpreting the infinitely complex character of Abraham Lincoln.

PAUL M. ANGLE

Nancy spinning and weaving to keep at least one garment on each of her children.

A contemporary pioneer contributes a section about rail-splitting. Lincoln's law partner tells of Lincoln as a young lawyer—and of his rehearsing of his first speech behind drawn blinds. It was in that speech, by the way, that he refused to take out the reference to "a house divided against itself," though his friends said it was political suicide.

Contemporary newspaper accounts of Lincoln's political battles, and off-the-record stories by a great many men and women who knew more than they would tell when Lincoln was alive, add color to "The Lincoln Reader," which Carl Sandburg calls "the best all-round one-volume biography of Lincoln that can be bought, borrowed or stolen."

It ends with Lincoln's famous words: "As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master. This expresses my idea of democracy. Whatever differs from this, to the extent of the difference, is no democracy."

Paul Angle, who has been a Lincoln student for over 20 years, is now secretary of the Chicago Historical Society. His "The Lincoln Reader" is the Book-of-the-Month Club selection for February.

Make cloisters meet for peace and prayer;
Days like hovering wings of the nest

January

January is a freight train rumbling slowly along. Its brakes are tested air brakes, its couplings are strong. It has a bill of lading for every town it serves. It picks up speed across the plains, slows down on hair-pin curves. It whistles for the crossings, three long and echoing toots. It stops at all milk stations and elevator chutes. It has a crew of brakemen, sure footed from long use. They eat their cosy dinners in the little red caboose. It sways and swings, takes pleasure in its grinding, clanking tune. It's head straight for February, March, April, May and June.

George Butler tells us about a frisky robin singing merrily in his backyard Sunday afternoon. But we can't catalogue that bird as the first spring robin, rather he's probably one of last season's leftovers a few of which have been hanging around all winter.

Anyhow seeing those birds hopping around the yard makes one feel that spring really is on the way at that.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LeLAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Frank is a tall man, fast greying at the temples. He never seems to be in a hurry, and yet he seems to get more things done than many other people I know who are in a continuous dither from morning to night. But despite his bountiful hours of leisure, he makes a very good livelihood for his wife and four children.

"How do you do it, Frank? I asked him one time in a bantering tone—but secretly I was quite serious. "Don't you ever work any more?"

"Certainly I work!" he replied with a slow smile. "But I have learned how to work and have plenty of leisure time, too. Then he told me earnestly.

"Lee, I never really lived until I learned how to plan my time. That is the whole secret of having plenty of time to one's self. Most people still do like I used to do. They waste precious minutes by mislaying tools, or engaging in meaningless talk on the phone. They make temporary repairs about the house that they later have to do all over again, thus taking from a fourth to twice the time that it would have taken them to do it right in the first place. This is lost time and effort. And they don't plan their work or their lives.

A lazy man never has leisure, Lee. If you take your work by the horns, you can plan it so that you will have plenty of time to do the things you want to do."

"A lazy man never has leisure." That thought puzzled me for some time. It seemed to me that there was little difference between laziness and leisure. But the more that I thought about it, the clearer the distinction became to me.

Laziness, as my friend Frank described it, was indolence. A lazy man was a sluggard, a slothful, idle person, who wasted his time.

A "man of leisure" was a man who was master of his time, who took time to think and plan his life so that he had leisure to live as he pleased.

Frank's life exemplifies the old saying, "all men have minds, but only a few seem to be aware of it."

Vets lose last chance to save 100 billion in insurance, Feb. 1

NATIONAL CALAMITY

Perhaps the most valuable single asset the U. S. Government has extended to veterans is their National Service Life Insurance.

It is a deplorable fact that our war veterans are throwing away one hundred billion dollars worth of comfort, security and independence. One hundred billion dollars worth of shelter for their wives, and food and education for their children. If nothing is done about it, this will be the biggest self-inflicted loss in the history of our nation.

More than half of our veterans are letting this valuable protection slide, tossing it aside as happily as they dropped their rifles or duffle bags. If this trend continues, a fine new possession, created for the service-men's benefit, will largely have vanished into thin air. A huge, unrealized asset lost through lack of appreciation of its value.

The war is over, but the need for insurance has just begun. Statistics tell us that more veterans will die in the next five years than were lost on all combined battlefields. The war claimed less than 2 1/2% of the men in uniform. Insurance companies tell us that over four percent of all men over twenty-five will be dead in ten years. If an ex-soldier thinks he is safer now that the war is over, he is kidding himself, and if he drops his National Service Life Insurance on this assumption, he is robbing his family of this necessary protection.

National Service Life Insurance represents for the veteran the second greatest government-sponsored, mass-security program in history, second only to Social Security. It will be a senseless loss to the individual veteran and to the nation as a whole if this tremendous national resource is frittered away through oversight and misunderstanding.

The veteran still has a chance of reinstating National Service Life Insurance. If this is done before February 1, 1947, the veteran need not submit to a physical examination, and by the payment of two monthly premiums, his NSLI policy will be brought back to life.

Think it over, veterans. Act now before your National Service Life Insurance walks its last mile, killed through your negligence.

There's no place like home — for accidents

There's no place like home — for safety hazards! A bulletin, issued by Joseph F. Stech, manager, Greater Chicago Safety Council, points out that loss of income, medical expense and overhead cost of insurance involved in home accidents each year amounts to some $600,000,000.

Seven main causes of home fires are rubbish, defective chimneys, combustible roofs, defective heaters, inflammable liquids, defective electric equipment improperly installed or serviced, and matches and careless smokers.

Home accident casualties are highest among young children and old people, and falls account for four-fifths of casualties among persons over 65. Junior's balls and skates forgotten on the stairs, rugs with upcurling edges that trip the unwary, steps, careless techniques of getting in or out of the bathtub, or of mounting stepladders and chairs to hang curtains, are prime offenders.

In the home, just as in plants, proper maintenance is an important as personal caution to prevent mishaps. The bulletin urges housewives to take as much thought in handling the various appliances of domesticity as a plant inspector takes in testing machinery. When those electric cords begin to fray, call for immediate repairs. Get rid of rubbish immediately; don't let it accumulate. The government can use the waste paper, and as for those adds and ends you think you may use "someday," chances are you never will. A smoothly-functioning home, regularly inspected by the home-maker's keen eye, is a safe, protected home.

Rental priorities needed, but fall behind in homes

Priorities for 117,675 new homes and apartment units were issued in nine middle western states during 1946, with more than three-fourths of the units for owner occupancy, Regional Expediter Charles J. Horan of the National Housing Agency announced today. About two-thirds of the structures will cost more than $6,500 each, Horan said.

The national total of priorities for homes and apartments was 927,621, for the period from January 15 to December 23, 1946.

"Heavy emphasis must be placed on rental housing for 1947," Horan said, "since figures indicate that less than one-fifth of the units built in 1946 in the middle west were for rental. For the nation as a whole, figures show that, 23.8 per cent of non-commercial building was rental housing. Minnesota is the only state in the Middle West in which priorities indicate that an appreciable volume of rental housing was built in 1946. There, out of a total of 15,632 priorities issued, 4,612, or approximately 30 per cent, were for rental housing.

"Runners-up to Minnesota were North and South Dakota, with 25 per cent, and downstate Illinois, with 24 per cent of priorities for rental housing. The 19 counties in the Northern district of Illinois including Chicago and Cook County, and extending as far south as Kankakee, lagged far behind southern Illinois, with less than 17 per cent of priorities issued for rental housing."

Health survey

Blasts unsanitary practices of most public eating places

Conditions of filth and widespread unsanitary practices in Chicago and Cook County eating and drinking establishments were revealed in a report released by the Advisory Committee of the Chicago-Cook County Health Survey.

The report disclosed that the combined sanitation rating of sampled eating and drinking places was 31.5 points out of a possible 100 when measured by a standard ordinance and code recommended by the Public Health Service. A rating of 90 would represent reasonably satisfactory compliance with the recommended ordinance. County restaurants and taverns had a rating slightly higher, but still far below the minimum requirements deemed necessary to health.

Referring to Chicago, the surveyors found:

"Ninety-nine percent of the establishments surveyed violated the item pertaining to disinfection of dishes and utensils; the item pertaining to back-siphonage into water supplies, from toilets, dish-washing machines, and sinks; and the item covering garbage disposal methods.

"Ninety-eight percent violated the item pertaining to the cleaning of dishes and utensils; 87 per cent violated the item pertaining to the construction of equipment; 98 percent were deficient in items pertaining to toilet facilities; and 93 percent violated the item pertaining to cleaning of equipment."

The survey placed principal blame on inadequacy of the city's ordinances controlling eating and drinking establishments, and lack of personnel in the food section of the Chicago Board of Health to carry on an adequate inspection service.

"It was quite obvious that restaurateurs recognize the value of 'window dressing' for the public benefit," the report pointed out.

"Elaborate and ornate appointments were obvious in the dining rooms of many establishments, while in the kitchens vermin and filth were found. Waiters and waitresses were impeccably attired, yet the dishwashers and others not meeting the public eye too often presented a picture of utter disregard for personal cleanliness and hygiene."

Hospitals received the poorest sanitation rating in the survey. The survey was a "representative sample" and did not cover all hospitals, many of which prepare and serve food under the strictest, most modern, sanitary controls.

"The combined sanitation rating of these (sampled) hospitals was 25.9 points out of 100," the report stated. "That is less than the combined rating for all establishments surveyed in Chicago."

In 1945 there were three food borne outbreaks of disease involving 619 persons by the Chicago Health Department. The report asserted that the study indicated that sanitation conditions in Chicago restaurants are far below the minimum standards required by good practice. Experience generally has shown that many cases of food poisoning occur throughout the nation which are not reported.

Revamping of the municipal code to include the minimum requirements contained in the ordinance controlling eating and drinking establishments recommended by the U. S. Public Health Service was urged, along with an increase in the food inspection staff of the health department.

Studies of eating places in suburban and rural Cook County revealed conditions similar to those in Chicago. It was found that "97 per cent of the establishments surveyed disregarded disinfection of dishes and utensils and the item pertaining to disposal of wastes; 93 per cent were deficient in toilet facilities; 84 per cent violated the item pertaining to cleaning of equipment; and 78 per cent violated the item pertaining to lavatory facilities."

1947 agricultural conservation program outlined at session

1947 agricultural conservation program was outlined at district meetings of the state AAA this month with the closest session held at Yorkville. Attending from Arlington Heights AA office were W. A. Hinz and Jacquelyn Jahrling.

Carl M. Bormet, chairman, reports that the program will be basically the same as last year. However, a few changes are designed for better administration and greater service to farmers. Farm plans, which again must be signed by all cooperators, allow greater flexibility and freedom to farmers in carrying out an approved conservation program. Each farmer may earn a guaranteed minimum payment by doing a specified amount of conservation work. He also has the opportunity of increasing the payment that can be earned by completing approved units above minimum requirements, providing budget permits. It is anticipated that farmers will have wider choice of practices than a year ago.

There is also provision for a local practice which may be established on a county basis should a special need arise which cannot be met by use of regularly listed practices. In contrast, farmers will be required to assume greater responsibility in getting their Farm Plans signed. All, however, will be given an opportunity. Major sign-up will be conducted in February and March.

Clinton oats yields 57 bu. average in '46

Approximately 800,000 bushels of Clinton, a new variety of oats, have been harvested in Illinois this year, estimates J. C. Hackleman, professor of crops extension, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

A recent survey of 598 Clinton oat growers in 46 of 62 counties reveals that 7,745 bushels were sown on 7,664 acres, or an average seeding of 32.3 pounds an acre. They reported an average yield of 57.1 bushels an acre, or 56½ pounds of seed produced for each pound sown.

"At these rates, if our survey was complete, Illinois would have 14,030 acres with 14,179 bushels and, at 57.1 bushels an acre, would produce 801,000 bushels of Clinton oats in 1946," says the specialists.

The highest reported yield from the 1946 crop has come from Lynn Clarkson of Cerro Gordo, Platt county. He planted 11.4 bushels of oats on 31.4 acres, or 11½ pounds of seed an acre shown in 24-inch cultivated rows. From this acreage he harvested 55½ bushels of 37.3-pound test weight oats. This yield is at the rate of 154 pounds produced for each pound of seed sown. Lowest yield reported to date was 24 pounds for each pound of seed sown.

"Supplies of Clinton Oats will not be sufficient to go around again in 1947," Hackleman declared. "The serious Helminthosporium disease outbreak in the 1946 oat crop naturally increased the demand for Clinton oat seed."

"Therefore, farmers will have to use the seed they can get. Two other varieties in addition to Clinton and Benton that exhibited resistance to Helminthosporium were the Marion and the Columbia.

"The Victoria-Richland crosses, namely, Tama, Vieland, Boone, Control, etc., were quite susceptible and were seriously damaged."

Hackleman suggested that these varieties should be treated if they are to be used. In fact, he recommends that every bushel of oats sown in Illinois regardless of variety should be treated, inasmuch as the Benton and Clinton are susceptible to some of the new strains or races of smut that seem to be present in the state.

"If a farmer is going to treat his seed just before seeding, he will want to follow the recommendation of the manufacturer of Ceresan. If, on the other hand, he is going to treat the oats three weeks or more in advance of seeding, he should reduce the amount of treatment by 50 per cent—in other words, put on one-half the normal amount of Ceresan where treatment is made three weeks or more before seeding time."

Professor Hackleman reported that the first increase of Clinton oats was made in Arizona in the fall of 1943, when 25 pounds of seed sown produced 67 bushels the following spring. These 67 bushels were then sown in Aberdeen, Idaho, the summer of 1944, and 1,207 bushels were harvested. Of this yield, Iowa was given 807 bushels; Illinois, 200; and Indiana, 200. From these bushels, the following amounts were produced: Iowa, 24,000; Illinois, 14,179; and Indiana 8,250.

The meeting will devote most of the time to discussion and appraisal of the latest sales and service trends in the insurance business.

Guest speakers include: Robert L. Hogg, general counsel and executive vice president, American Life Convention; Nellis Parkinson, director of the Illinois state department of insurance; Floyd E. Morris, vice president of the Illinois Agricultural Association; Russell C. Tri-State Coop Set Growers ship 100 cars

The Tri-State Onion Set Growers report shipment of 100 cars sets for members up until January 18th, reports Garret Pals, manager of the Exchange, South Holland, Illinois.

The Tri-State is the newly organized onion set cooperative exchange. Over one million bushels of sets are held by the Exchange and the price has been fixed at $1.35 base up to January 15th and to advance 1¢ per day. Not only has this exchange furnished a firm base of sales for its members who represent 90% of the Lower Lake Michigan Area, but it has enabled the 10% remaining outside the Exchange to secure a good price for their sets.

Vegetable growers school

"The annual vegetable growers' schools will be held February 5 and 6 at St. Matthew's School on Milwaukee ave., at Ballard Road," states farm adviser, C. A. Hughes. "The Cook County Farm Bureau and Cook County Truck Growers are sponsoring these schools. The program we believe is timely and pointed at problems bothering the grower. Programs have been sent to practically all growers."

"A discussion 'Is There a Better Way of Marketing Vegetables?' is scheduled the afternoon of February 5 and 'Adjustments Vegetable Growers Should make the 6th. The evening program will feature the benefits the growers may get from a Soils Conservation District with the movie 'America, the Beautiful'. A good attendance and interest is anticipated."

National flower show in Chicago in March

If you love flowers and the spell of a bright garden—and who doesn't?—you are certain to be thrilled by this notice just received at the editor's desk—a National Flower Show will be held in March at Chicago's International Amphitheatre. It will be staged spectacularly by the Society of American Florists, first show since the war.

Readers of this newspaper can save neatly on their admissions to the Show by getting advance sale tickets at their flower shops.
The advance sale price is only 85c, while the regular admission price at Show time will be $1.20.

One of the reasons Chicago was selected for the big show was the vast network of greenhouses and nurseries in this area. Many of the flowers you will see in March are now being grown in Chicago's warm greenhouses.

OIL

Since the first recorded commercial production of petroleum in the 1850's, the earth has been tapped for more than 33,000,000-000 barrels (of 42 U. S. gallons), according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. The United States yielded nearly 64% of this amount or about 22,000,000,000 barrels.

Red Cross spends 700 million in 7 years

How war transformed the American National Red Cross into a mighty emissary to carry comfort and cheer to American servicemen the world over is told in a 7-year report, covering the war years, released today by Chairman Basil O'Connor.

While this report covers the most significant period in the organization's history, Mr. O'Connor pointed out that Red Cross responsibility in military and veterans services is still large scale and must so continue for several years. Likewise, he said, the tempo of chapter community services in health, safety, and disaster relief is increasing.

Over 36,645,000 persons contributed to the American Red Cross in its peak war year, 1945, bolstering its resources so that never before were its services extended so far to so many, the report disclosed.

The report, which covers the 1939-46 period, shows that when the clouds of war began to mass, services to the military were stepped up and continued to expand. Service expenditures exclusively for the armed forces and subsequently for veterans totalled $365,816,818 for the 7-year period.

Total American Red Cross expenditures for 1939-46 (June 30) reached $730,749,169.

An average of 4,246,000 unpaid volunteer workers in 3,750 chapters served the organization each of the 7 years. In this total, an average of 2,138,000 members of the trained volunteer corps alone gave nearly a billion hours of service. In the 105-page report, illustrated with graphs and charts,
other outstanding facts include:

In the blood donor program for the Army and Navy, 6,663,121
Americans contributed 13,326,000
pints of blood.

More than $70,000,000 was loaned by the American Red Cross at camps and hospitals to servicemen and women in the 4 years from 1942-22 to the present.
More than 52,000 community organizations were participating in the Red Cross camp and hospital service program during the war years, with civic groups far in the lead.

Owning no ships of its own,
using only what commercial and military shipping space available, the American Red Cross nevertheless sent 300,460 tons of supplies overseas between 1939 and 1946, distributing the supplies to military personnel through its services to the armed forces, to prisoners of war through the International Red Cross Committee, and to civilians through overseas emergency relief activities.

In the 7-year period, servicemen and their families were assisted in 17,980,230 cases by American Red Cross Home Service departments. Forty-two million communications for servicemen veterans, and their families have been handled by Red Cross since Pearl Harbor.

The number of persons assisted through American Red Cross
overseas emergency relief activities totalled 75,053,320. Overseas relief includes distribution of Red Cross chapter-produced garments; milk-feeding programs;
furnishing drug, food, medical,
and educational supplies, and reorganization of community health and welfare services in war-affected cities.

Attendance at club facilities, including leave clubs, canteens,
recreation centers, snack bars,
and rest homes totalled more than 52,000,000 in a single month during the peak operation of clubs with the American military throughout the world.

In its educational, health, and general welfare activities for the period, the American Red Cross doubled Junior Red Cross enrollment in a single year and a half ending June 1946. Junior Red Cross provided 7,000 medical chests to care for 8,000,000 children overseas for 3 months; spent $5,778,632 in educating the nation in first aid, water safety, and accident prevention; trained 1, 698,050 men and women in home nursing; and male, through its public health nurses, 5,155,464 visits.

Encyclopaedia tells story of 179 years world progress

One hundred and seventy-nine years of continuous publication will be completed by the Encyclopaedia Britannica this month.
The venerable reference work is eight years older than the Declaration of Independence and 69 years older than the city of Chicago where it has been printed since 1911.

Only 14,000,000 people spoke English when the reference work first appeared in 1768. Today it has a potential audience of more than 200,000,000 English-speaking people for whom it is written.

First published in Edinburgh, Scotland, "by a Society of Gentlemen", the earliest Britannica comprised three volumes issued in 100 pamphlet installments. Its 2,670 pages included 160 full-page engraved illustrations. In comparison, the 1947 Britannica—24 volumes—has more than 17,588 illustrations and 38,000,000 words.

Between 1768 and 1932, 14 editions of the Britannica were published. Then the policy of continuous revision was adopted, providing for review and revision, if necessary, of every article at least twice every ten years.
Under this plan, 35,000 new or revised articles have been prepared for the Britannica by 4,000 distinguished contributors, and a new printing has been published every year.

Because each edition of the Britannica has summarized the knowledge of its time, it has been called "a yardstick of human progress." When the first edition was published in 1768, California was believed to be "a large country of the West Indies." It is uncertain whether it be a peninsula or an island. Amsterdam, Holland, was described as a city whose inhabitants "apply themselves with utmost diligence to heap up wealth, not with a view to enjoy it, but to have the pleasure of dying rich."

The article on mummies in the first edition described their use as a medicine, but the author pointed out that "we are not to imagine that anybody breaks up the real Egyptian mummies to sell them in pieces to the druggists." He explained how mummy medicine was made from the bodies of executed criminals and added that any benefits "seem to be such as depend more upon the ingredients used in preparing the flesh, than in the flesh itself; and it would surely be better to give those ingredients without so shocking an addition."

Not a single new edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica has ever been brought out by an English firm. All of the first nine editions were published by Scots.
The tenth edition was prepared under contracts owned by Americans and all subsequent editions and printings have been American owned. In 1920, the Britanni-ca became the property of Sears, Roebeck and Company, which gave it to the University of Chicago, its present owner, in 1943.

As an American corporation, Britannica has produced, in addition to the encyclopaedia, Britannica Junior, an encyclopaedia

Questions on G. I. bill

Question: How long after discharge from service are readjustment allowances available to the Veteran?

Answer: Readjustment allowances are available to an eligible veteran at any time after his discharge or release until two years after the date of his discharge or two years after the termination of the war, whichever is later, but in no case more than five years after the termination of hostilities in World War II.

Question: Is a veteran who leaves his job entitled to readjustment allowance?

Answer: If the veteran leaves suitable work voluntarily, without good cause, or is suspended or discharged for misconduct in the course of employment, he may be disqualified for as many as five weeks.

Question: Is the pension of a veteran subject to change if he takes a position?

Answer: No. Disabled veterans are encouraged to do such work as their disability permits.
This does not affect the amount of their pensions because each disability pension is based on the veterans disability as determined by Veterans Administration rating schedule. Such pensions are subject to change only as the disability itself changes.

Question: I am a veteran and am collecting my Readjustment Allowance. Now it is necessary for me to move out of town and I want to know if I can continue my claim in the city to which I am going?

Answer: Yes. Report this to your local Unemployment Compensation office and you will be instructed to report to the office nearest to your new address.

Question: I was only in the army for seven months and five days. To how many weeks of Readjustment Allowance am I entitled?

Answer: You are entitled to collect your Readjustment Allowance for 40 weeks.

DELIGHTFUL!

Fresh Fluffy TOWELS

Park Lane laundered towels are as welcome as the first day of Spring . . . they're so clean, so fresh, so soothing to the skin. It's part of the service that you pay for. A modern laundry like Park Lane provides all the extras . . .
but at no difference in price.
